Petrie Book Auction

Our next book auction will take place on Monday 31 October in the Petrie Museum

Doors open at 5.15pm with plenty of time to view the books, and enjoy a glass of wine. The auction will start at 6.00pm and, importantly, it will be possible to recharge your glasses throughout the evening!

Initial bidding will be conducted online starting in the first week of October. If you don’t have email and would like a hard copy of the list, let Jan know. Our live auction is just as important so please do come!

If you have previously registered to receive email updates of the booklist and the bids, you don’t need to do anything (unless you’ve changed your email address). If you didn’t, you can register by emailing petriebooks@ijnet.demon.co.uk.

If you previously registered but can’t participate this year you can unsubscribe just by letting me know.

The auction will run online as in previous years. Online bids will be carried forward to the live event so that the largest number of people can participate to raise funds for conservation of objects in the museum.

This is always an enjoyable event and provides an opportunity to socialise informally – as well as buying books!

We look forward to seeing as many of you as possible support this worthwhile and fun event.

Regards

Jan
