Corbyn issues seat warning to rebel MPs

Jeremy Corbyn surrounded by supporters yesterday as he made his way to the press conference where he launched his leadership campaign.

The Labour party leader warned his mutinous MPs — who last month condemned him in a vote of no-confidence — that none of their seats would be safe if he were to become leader.

He said boundary changes set to be carried out by 2018 meant there would be a "full and open selection process" to choose the Labour candidate in every seat for the next general election.

In his speech, Mr Corbyn promised to
