Access to European Journal of Ophthalmology

The Joint Library of Ophthalmology has subscribed to European Journal of Ophthalmology (2004 - present). This means, you can now access the journal with your NHS OpenAthens account.

Step by step guide to access the journal:

1. Go to www.evidence.nhs.uk (Internet explorer is not the best browser to access the journal, so try Firefox or Chrome…)
2. Click on Journals and Databases tab on the top right of the screen.
3. Click on the Log in to OpenAthens in the middle of the page and log in. A list of available resources will be displayed.
4. Click on the e-journals A-Z list
5. Click on the OpenAthens Login tab on the top right of the next page. This refreshes the page and you should be able to see your username. Hello nhs….
   *N.B. Unless you do this, you will not be able to see the locally subscribed content, including European Journal of Ophthalmology.
6. Now you can either search for European Journal of Ophthalmology or browse the title from A-Z list.
