About the Newham Collegiate Sixth Form (NCS)

The vision and aim at the NCS is clear and specific; to provide outstanding A Level education and examination results for able local students to enable them to progress to the best and most competitive universities, including Oxford, Cambridge, UCL and other prestigious universities world wide. The NCS opened in September 2014 and is based in stunning Grade 2 listed buildings in East Ham with excellent resources and facilities.

In an area of high socio-economic deprivation and students from backgrounds which are under-represented at higher education, you can make a tangible difference to social change.

The tutorials

During the course of a 1 hour tutorial, you will act as a university tutor, leading a tutorial of a small group of 3 or 4 year 12 sixth form students. All resources and teaching materials are prepared and available for you to see in advance.

All tutorials take place on Wednesday afternoons from January to March 2017 and there are 8 tutorials in total.

Do you love your subject?
Would you like to share your passion for your subject with others?
Are you interested in improving social mobility?
Would you like to help sixth form students from the state sector apply to the top universities?

Then the UCL NCS tutorial scheme is an ideal way to make a difference using your academic ability.
You must be studying the above subject for an undergraduate or postgraduate degree and be in the second year of study or above.

Joint honours degrees are also accepted and for Biology, applications from Biomed and Medicine are also welcome. For Physics, Engineering degrees are accepted.

When and where?

All tutorials take place on Wednesday afternoons at 3pm – 4pm at Newham Collegiate Sixth Form which is located in East London, only a 10 minute walk from East Ham station on the District Line.
