

FINDING OUT MORE

PROSPECTIVE APPLICANTS

If you are considering applying to UCL you can find out more about our degree programmes and the experience of studying at UCL by a number of means.

Website

www.ucl.ac.uk/study

Our website provides you with lots of extra information about being a student at UCL. You can find out more about the degree programmes, how they are structured and what options you will have. You can check out the clubs and societies run by the Students' Union, and discover what events and entertainments are scheduled. You can visit our discussion boards and see what other applicants and students are asking about. Find out if we're visiting a Higher Education Fair near you. You can even take a virtual tour of our facilities.

If you are searching for an answer on a particular aspect of student life, a selection of useful web addresses is given on page 173, or post a question on our discussion forum at www.ucl.ac.uk/discussions

Publications

Our guide to UCL's Student Accommodation gives information about the locations, facilities and current costs for all our residences. It is available online and as a downloadable PDF at www.ucl.ac.uk/accommodation

We also publish a guide called The UCL Offer, with corresponding information on the web at www.ucl.ac.uk/prospectus/fees-and-costs. Details cover tuition fees, maintenance bursaries and loans, and our own UCL Bursaries. It also addresses other advantages of being a student in London. You will automatically be sent a copy if we make you an offer of a place on a degree programme.

UCL's Graduate Prospectus is available both in print and online, and describes the higher degree programmes we offer to students who have completed their undergraduate degree. See www.ucl.ac.uk/gradprospectus

The Study Abroad Guide, at www.ucl.ac.uk/sag or in printed format, is intended for students who are not registered for UCL degrees but who wish to enrol on an affiliate basis, for example, as part of an exchange or Junior Year Abroad programme contributing to their degree studies elsewhere.

To obtain printed copies of these publications visit www.ucl.ac.uk/study/access-ucl/request-information or contact the UCL Study Information Centre as detailed on this page.

Tours of UCL

If you would like to visit us in person, you can book a place on a general campus tour led by current students by visiting www.ucl.ac.uk/study/access-ucl/open-days/guided-tour-info/index or by telephoning the Study Information Centre, details on this page.

Open Days

The UCL Open Day will be held on Thursday 30 June 2011. For up-to-date details and booking information visit www.ucl.ac.uk/openday. Dates for any UCL subject-specific events and for the University of London Open Days in September are available at www.ucl.ac.uk/study/access-ucl. Or you may telephone the Study Information Centre, details on this page.

Higher Education Fairs

Throughout the year representatives from UCL attend Higher Education Fairs and Educational Exhibitions around the UK and overseas. Lists of the events we will be attending are given on the web at www.ucl.ac.uk/study/access-ucl
