Food and Restaurants in Qatar

Local cuisine

You can enjoy traditional Qatai dishes, such as machbous and hummus at restaurants in Souq Waqif. Katara also house some restaurants, which serve traditional Qatari dishes with Karak (a traditional tea drink).

Restaurants

Souq Waqif (10 minutes by taxi from the Museum of Islamic Art) has a range of excellent restaurants representing the Arab world (no alcohol is served): http://www.zomato.com/doha/souq-waqif-restaurants

Katara Cultural Village (25 minutes by taxi from the Museum of Islamic Art) has some of the best restaurants in Doha, from Indian to fish to Armenian (no alcohol is served): http://www.katara.net/english/the-village/restaurants/

The five star hotels in the West Bay area contain a number of excellent restaurants (alcohol is served) – the following are recommended:

Spice Market, W Hotel: http://www.spicemarketdoha.com/

Market, W Hotel: http://www.marketdoha.com/

Hakkasan, St Regis: http://hakkasan.com/doha/

Cheaper options can be found in the shopping malls such as City Center, West Bay, where you will find burgers and pizzas at various food outlets. The food chains of McDonald's, KFC, Hardees, Burger King and Johnny Rockets can be found throughout Qatar. There are some smaller restaurants on the street in the vicinity of the Movenpick Hotel.

