SenSyT (www.ucl.ac.uk/sensyt) is a multi-disciplinary research network dedicated to advancing basic and translational research into sensory function and tackling the societal, scientific, engineering and biomedical, challenges of human sensory loss.

Seminar Series

14/12/15 4 PM: Prof. Giandomenico Iannetti, NPP, Avoiding pain - multimodal mechanisms of threat detection and body defence. G33, Ear Institute, UCL

25/01/16 3 PM : Prof. Anne Schilder, evidENT, Otitis media; trials and beyond. Leolin Price LT, Institute of Child Health, UCL

29/02/16 4 PM : Prof. Muki Haklay, ExCiteS, On the Potentials of Citizen Science. Main Lecture Theatre, Institute of Ophthalmology, UCL

21/03/16 4 PM : Prof. Sir Colin Blakemore, CenSes, Does Philosophy Make Sense? Lecture Theatre, Ear Institute, UCL

25/04/16 4 PM : Dr. Brendan Clarke, STS, Reference-classes and clinical trials. Leolin Price LT, Institute of Child Health, UCL

All welcome!

To join the SenSyT events mailing list please email sensyt@ucl.ac.uk