Dear Dr Vaidya,

We thought you might be interested to know that your paper entitled "Breast-conserving Surgery with Intra-operative Radiotherapy: The Right Approach for the 21st Century?", which was published in Clinical Oncology, was one of the top 10 most downloaded articles from the journal on ScienceDirect in 2006.

This demonstrates a considerable interest in your article amongst the scientific community. We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for publishing in Clinical Oncology and we hope that you will consider publishing in the journal again.

You have received this email as the corresponding author of your article, and I should be grateful if you would circulate this to your colleagues with whom you collaborated as appropriate.

Thank you again for choosing to publish your work in Clinical Oncology - latest ISI Impact Factor 1.471. Your contribution to the journal has been greatly appreciated, and we hope to have the opportunity to work with you again on any future manuscripts that you may choose to submit to the journal. Online submission is now available for Clinical Oncology, please click here for further information: <http://ees.elsevier.com/yclon/>

With best wishes,
