Approvals Timeline for Staff Developing Undergraduate Programme Proposals

The table below sets out the recommended timeline for the development and approval of undergraduate programmes at UCL. These deadlines are set in conjunction with the requirements of UCAS and the guidance of the CMA (Competition and Markets Authority).

	3 years before delivery Development and FPPC approval phase (2023-24)	2 years before delivery PMAP approval and set-up phase (2024-25)	Year before delivery Recruitment phase (2025-26)	Year of delivery (2026-27)
Autumn Term	Programme development phase, to include consideration by: Current students and prospective applicants Planning Finance Estates Arena Centre Communications and Marketing Library Services Digital Education An External Scrutineer and as appropriate Other relevant UCL academic departments UCL Study Abroad and Visa Compliance teams Academic Partnerships Review Group (APRG) for any external academic partnerships. Professional, Statutory and Regulatory bodies	By 30th November 2024 the UG Programme Proposal should have met all of the conditions of Approval from PMAP. Notification of Final Approval must then be sent to EdComm to note and to relevant UCL Professional Services to action in their area. The MarComms team in Office of the Vice-President (External Engagement) must receive notification of PMAP approval by 1st December in order for the programme to feature in the 2026-27 UG printed Prospectus. Any approvals after this date will be added to UCL's online UG Prospectus in its first year of recruitment.
	Full business case approval by FPPC for new programmes.	Implications for central timetabling and other central resource costs confirmed
Spring Term	By the end of this term, the UG Programme Proposal should receive Approval from DTC and FTC .

Summer	By the end of this term, the UG Programme Proposal should
Term	have been submitted to PMAP for consideration.

Approvals Timeline for Staff Developing Postgraduate Programme Proposals

The table below sets out the recommended timeline for the development and approval of new postgraduate programmes at UCL. These deadlines are set in conjunction with the guidance of the CMA (Competition and Markets Authority).

	2 years before delivery Development and FPPC approval phase (2023-24)	Year before delivery PMAP approval, set-up and recruitment phase (2024-25)	Year of delivery (2025-26)
Autumn Term	Programme development phase, to include consideration by: Current students and prospective applicants Planning Finance Estates Arena Centre Communications and Marketing Library Services Digital Education An External Scrutineer and as appropriate Other relevant UCL academic departments UCL Study Abroad and Visa Compliance teams Academic Partnerships Review Group (APRG) for any external academic partnerships. UCL Apprenticeships Steering Group for Level 7 apprenticeships Professional, Statutory and Regulatory bodies	By the start of term, the PG Programme Proposal should have met all the conditions of Approval from PMAP Notification of Final Approval must then be sent to EdComm to note and to relevant Professional Services to action in their area.
	Full business case approval by FPPC for new programmes.	Implications for central timetabling and other central resource costs confirmed

Spring Term	By the end of this term, the PG Programme Proposal should receive Approval from DTC and FTC
Summer Term	By the end of this term, the PG Programme Proposal should have been submitted to PMAP for consideration.
	N.B. The MarComms team in Office of the Vice-President (External Engagement) must receive notification of PMAP approval by 30thJune 2024 in order for the programme to feature in the 2025-26 PG printed Prospectus. Any approvals after this date will be added to UCL's online PG Prospectus in its first year of recruitment.

Timeline for Programme Amendment

The table below sets out the standard timeline for Programme Amendment at UCL.

The deadlines are set in conjunction with the guidance of the CMA (Competition and Markets Authority).

All Programme amendments should receive approval / consent from any affected current students, prior to submission. All Programme amendments should be communicated to applicants and offer-holders, prior to submission.

Please refer to the UCL Academic Manual, Chapter 7, Annex 7.1.3 for guidance around consulting with current students, applicants and offer-holders on Programme amendments.

All Minor Programme amendments should receive approval from DTC and FTC.

The completed and signed paperwork should be sent to lifecycle@ucl.ac.uk to process.

All Moderate and Major Programme amendments should receive approval from DTC and FTC, as well as from an External Scrutineer. Where there is a resourcing implication, Moderate and Major Programme amendments will need to be referred to UCL Planning for advice and possible approval from the FPPC.

The completed and signed paperwork should be sent to acadserv.pmap@ucl.ac.uk to process.

Programme Amendments to be implemented in 2024- 25	Programme Amendments to be implemented in 2025-26

UCL Academic Manual 2023-24, Chapter 7 Part B July 2023 v1

Annex	7.1	1.1
-------	-----	-----

Deadline to submit to	9 th June 2023 (End of Term 3, 2022-23).	7 th June 2024 (End of Term 3, 2023-24).
Academic Services		