

Why not join ACCORDIA?

We need your help

The Accordia Research Institute was founded in 1988 to promote research into early Italy. Its name embodies the concept of agreement (Italian accordo), and one of its strengths has been the encouragement of international co-operative research. The Institute organises research projects, public lectures and seminars, conferences and exhibitions. The Accordia Library contains many specialist publications. Accordia is also a small-scale publisher of specialised academic writing. It publishes its own Journal, the Accordia Research Papers.

Our policy is to encourage and support research into early Italy, especially by younger scholars, to get new work published as rapidly as possible, and to improve access to recent and innovative work. We believe our books represent good value.

Accordia operates on a voluntary, non-profit basis, supported by subscriptions and donations. Publications are self-financing. Everyone gives their services without payment.

Joining Accordia

If you approve of our objectives, please help us by joining Accordia. All you have to do is complete and return the form below.

Subscriptions are payable per calendar year (for current rates, see the form below). New subscriptions paid very late in the year are valid for the following year also.

Paid-up Members are entitled to a free copy of Accordia Research Papers when it is published, and to substantial discounts on most other Accordia publications (usually approximately 25%). Due to the great pressure upon a very small team, we cannot guarantee that Accordia Research Papers will be published punctually every year, but we still need regular and continuing financial support to keep all the activities of Accordia going successfully.

Standing Orders If you have a UK bank account, please help us by setting up a Standing Order. You may use your online banking. Or we can send you a Standing Order form; or you can download one direct from our website [www.ucl.ac.uk/accordia].

Life Membership Another way to support us. A bargain at £250, or only £150 if you are retired or a student. [Subscription rates, like everything else, will have to rise. Why not 'lock them in' (as the financial people say!) with a Life Membership?]

Cards & Credit Cards Please Email us at accordiaa@gmail.com for instructions on how to proceed. We use Paypal for card payments. This is a free service, and there is no obligation to join Paypal.
