Join the Campaign for UCL:
of them. To ensure that you continue to hear about our news and events, including a brand new
We are making some exciting changes to our alumni communications and want you to be a part

Upcoming Events

UCL Alumni Volunteering Awards 2019

Volunteering News

Alumni Volunteering Awards 2019

Dear Alumni

More UCL News

UCL East plans approved

London Legacy Development Corporation

We're celebrating six things that UCL's

alumni who support them

It's All Academic Campaign:

Lori Houlihan, Vice Provost (Advancement)

Best wishes,

For only the

it.

London's Global University

UCL. It's in part thanks to our wonderful alumni and supporters that UCL can have such an

The human gut contains over 100 trillion microorganisms. Many are

Santini discusses huge bacterial viruses (bacteriophages): their potential

roles in driving microbial composition in the gut, thereby affecting human

An imbalance can lead to disease. Professor Joanne

PhD student Joseph Santini will present his research on how huge bacterial viruses (bacteriophages) can

The gut microbiome's influence on our health is now widely accepted. Joseph Santini, a PhD student at

'Where the psychobiotics go, the health benefits flow': finding the

Michael Parkinson

The gut microbiome's influence on health is now widely accepted. Joseph Santini, a PhD student at UCL,

'the psychobiotics go, the health benefits flow': finding the

Michael Parkinson

The gut microbiome's influence on our health is now widely accepted. Joseph Santini, a PhD student at

Robotics and transformative technologies that will affect future urban industry leaders are developing sustainable cities, life-improving projects, environment. During this panel talk and networking evening, hear how

Meet the alumni architects, designers and urbanists who are innovating

UCL Connect: Innovating our built environment

UCL Lancaster Lecture – NCDs as a global emergency: closer to

Over 70% of global health deaths are caused by non-communicable diseases (NCDs). Like pandemics, NCDs are usually preventable. Like

UCL is the best place in the world to study education and

The UCL Office of the Vice Provost (Advancement) Data Protection statement is available

By clicking this link you will unsubscribe from all future UCL fundraising and alumni

Contact:
alumni@ucl.ac.uk

Refugee Food Festival yesterday, in support of charity Safe

The CAJ Student Pro Bono Committee organises the first UCL

pro bono legal services for refugees in London and beyond.

This year saw the second Refugee Food Festival, this time and Saudia Arabia.

of education system in countries including Egypt

for the sixth year running and

In the UK

In partnership with the University of Oxford, The Honorary Society of

In 2019 the University of Oxford and UCL are joint winners of the

UCL's five-year strategy, A New UCL 2015-2020, is being delivered,

成都

for the world to study

UCL. It's in part thanks to our wonderful alumni and supporters that UCL can have such an

We're celebrating six things that UCL's

alumni who support them

It's All Academic Campaign:

Lori Houlihan, Vice Provost (Advancement)

Best wishes,

For only the

it.

London's Global University

UCL. It's in part thanks to our wonderful alumni and supporters that UCL can have such an

The human gut contains over 100 trillion microorganisms. Many are

Santini discusses huge bacterial viruses (bacteriophages): their potential

roles in driving microbial composition in the gut, thereby affecting human

An imbalance can lead to disease. Professor Joanne

PhD student Joseph Santini will present his research on how huge bacterial viruses (bacteriophages) can

The gut microbiome's influence on our health is now widely accepted. Joseph Santini, a PhD student at UCL,

'the psychobiotics go, the health benefits flow': finding the

Michael Parkinson

The gut microbiome's influence on our health is now widely accepted. Joseph Santini, a PhD student at UCL,

Robotics and transformative technologies that will affect future urban

industry leaders are developing sustainable cities, life-improving projects,

environment. During this panel talk and networking evening, hear how

Meet the alumni architects, designers and urbanists who are innovating

UCL Connect: Innovating our built environment

UCL Lancaster Lecture – NCDs as a global emergency: closer to

Over 70% of global health deaths are caused by non-communicable
diseases (NCDs). Like pandemics, NCDs are usually preventable. Like

UCL is the best place in the world to study education and

The UCL Office of the Vice Provost (Advancement) Data Protection statement is available

By clicking this link you will unsubscribe from all future UCL fundraising and alumni

Contact:
alumni@ucl.ac.uk

Refugee Food Festival yesterday, in support of charity Safe

The CAJ Student Pro Bono Committee organises the first UCL

pro bono legal services for refugees in London and beyond.

This year saw the second Refugee Food Festival, this time

and Saudia Arabia.

of education system in countries including Egypt

for the sixth year running and

In the UK

In partnership with the University of Oxford, The Honorary Society of

In 2019 the University of Oxford and UCL are joint winners of the

UCL's five-year strategy, A New UCL 2015-2020, is being delivered,

成都

for the world to study

UCL. It's in part thanks to our wonderful alumni and supporters that UCL can have such an

We're celebrating six things that UCL's

alumni who support them

It's All Academic Campaign:

Lori Houlihan, Vice Provost (Advancement)

Best wishes,

For only the

it.

London's Global University

UCL. It's in part thanks to our wonderful alumni and supporters that UCL can have such an

The human gut contains over 100 trillion microorganisms. Many are

Santini discusses huge bacterial viruses (bacteriophages): their potential

roles in driving microbial composition in the gut, thereby affecting human

An imbalance can lead to disease. Professor Joanne

PhD student Joseph Santini will present his research on how huge bacterial viruses (bacteriophages) can

The gut microbiome's influence on our health is now widely accepted. Joseph Santini, a PhD student at UCL,

'the psychobiotics go, the health benefits flow': finding the

Michael Parkinson

The gut microbiome's influence on our health is now widely accepted. Joseph Santini, a PhD student at UCL,

Robotics and transformative technologies that will affect future urban

industry leaders are developing sustainable cities, life-improving projects,

environment. During this panel talk and networking evening, hear how

Meet the alumni architects, designers and urbanists who are innovating

UCL Connect: Innovating our built environment

UCL Lancaster Lecture – NCDs as a global emergency: closer to

Over 70% of global health deaths are caused by non-communicable
diseases (NCDs). Like pandemics, NCDs are usually preventable. Like