The conference involved PhD student speakers from across the Bartlett was funded by a Bartlett Small Research Grant.

This house would divest from fossil fuels (24 March 2015)

Bentham B01 - Main Lecture Theatre | Bentham House, UCL.

Should UCL divest from fossil fuels and sell its £21million invested in the industry? UCL academics debate this issue. Speakers include: Anthony Finkelstein, Professor of Software Systems Engineering, Dean of Engineering Sciences Faculty; Jane Holder, Professor of Environmental Law; Hugh Montgomery, Professor of Intensive Care Medicine, Director of UCL Institute for Human Health and Performance; Alan Penn, Dean of the Bartlett faculty of the Built Environment, Business Fellow for The Higher Education Funding Council for England; Chris Rapley, Professor of Climate Science, Director of the Science Museum from 2007-2010; Jane Rendell, Professor of Architecture and Art, Bartlett School of Architecture, UCL; Richard Horton, the Editor of the Lancet and an Honorary Professor at UCL, will chair the debate.

Reactivating the Social Condenser; Architecture against Privation (18 May 2015)

The conference was funded by the UCL Urban Laboratory, and the UCL Grand Challenge: Human Wellbeing, and co-convened with Dr Michal Murawski (SSEES)

Speakers: Nick Beech (Oxford Brookes/CCA) social condensations in 1960s London - Jonathan Charley (Strathclyde) on radical architectural memories - Udo Grashoff (SSEES, UCL) on 'schwarzwohnen' in East Germany - Owen Hatherley (London) on 'actually-existing' social condensers - Michael Marriott and Richard Wentworth (artists) on the 'laundry room' - Michal Murawski (SSEES, UCL) on Stalinist social condensers - Andrea Phillips (Goldsmiths) on housing, art and activism - Jane Rendell (The Bartlett, UCL) on the social condenser and the setting - Lukasz Stanek (Manchester) on Lefebvre and the social condenser - Andy Willimott (SSEES) on everyday life in Soviet house communes - Victor Buchli (Anthropology, UCL)

Practising Ethics in Built Environment Research: International two day conference (June 2015)
The conference involved speakers from across the Bartlett, UCL and externally was funded by a Bartlett Small Research Grant and UCL Grand Challenges.

This transdisciplinary symposium, part of the project 'Ethics in Built Environment Research', explores the role ethics plays in built environment research – tackling topics such as big data, fossil fuel, housing and regeneration, and addressing issues like confidentiality, consent, risk and vulnerability. Speakers include fiction writers, artists, scientists, academics, and public figures, including: Adriana Allen, Martin Austwick, Sarah Bell, Sarah Butler, Andrew Barry, Ben Campkin, Claire Colomb, Alex Frediani, Charlotte Johnson, Caren Levy, Saladin Meckled-Garcia, Christophe McGlade, Hayley Newman, Platform, David Price, Doina Petrescu, David Roberts, Jeremy Till, Jonathan Porritt and Michael Walls. The symposium was supported by The Bartlett Faculty of the Built Environment and UCL Grand Challenge of Human Wellbeing.

Practising Ethics: Positionality, Spatiality and Subjectivity in Dialogue: Afternoon Symposium (Oct 2015)

The conference involved speakers from across the UCL and externally was funded by an LAHP Research Grant.

Speech ExtrActions: Testimony, Evidence and Witness in Response to the Mining Industry (Oct 2016)

The conference was organised in collaboration with the London Mining Network and was funded by the Bartlett 'Sea and Currents Fund' and the London Mining Network and co-convened with Diana Salazar of the Bartlett DPU.

Canon-Making/Canon-Breaking : One Day Symposium, Bartlett School of Architecture (25 April 2017)

Judgement Calls: One Day Symposium (13 June 2017)

This one-day PhD workshop hosted by the Bartlett and the Slade focuses on ethical dilemmas in art and architectural research and practice. We are inviting PhD students to submit a max 200-word abstract for a 15-minute paper discussing an ethical dilemma they have encountered in their research, by Friday 24 March, 6pm to Prof Jane Rendell and Dr David Roberts. j.rendell@ucl.ac.uk and david.roberts@ucl.ac.uk.

The day will include presentations from approx 8 Bartlett and Slade PhD students, as well as talks from invited respondents, Prof Barb Bolt (Victoria College of the Arts, University of Melbourne), Making it Real: iDARE (innovation. Design. Art. Research. Ethics) and Prof Estelle Barrett (Institute of Koorie Education, Deakin University), The Ethics of Intercultural Research. Among their other research, Barb and Estelle are the co-editors of three books on creative research practice: Material Inventions: Applying Creative Arts Research, London (I.B.Tauris, 2014); Carnal Knowledge: Towards a "New Materialism" through the Arts, London, (I.B. Tauris, 2013); and Practice as Research: Approaches to Creative Arts Enquiry, (I.B.Tauris, 2007). Dr David Roberts will also be presenting drafts of ethical practice guidance he is preparing as part of the Bartlett Ethics Commission.

Creative Resistance: Architecture, Art, Writing, a Life... : One Day Symposium (4 July 2017)

Institute of Advanced Studies

Jane Rendell and Hélène Frichot will lead a workshop for MA and PhD students and staff exploring and performing the role of critical and creative writing through their research. How can experimental approaches to writing in architecture open up spaces for resistance, dissidence, liberation?

Thematics to explore include:

productive tensions between criticality and creativity in the mix - exploring hybrid genres possession/liberation – finding, making, taking voice biography and life-writing, auto- and others.

conditions for/expectations of - the academic context as a place of liberation and control coming before v coming after - questions of citation and appropriation writing, objects, spaces - trans-textualities

The afternoon will consist of presentations of writing and end at 6pm with a keynote presentation from Dr Helene Frichot, KTH , Stockholm. Exhausting the Exhausted: Ficto-critical Approaches to Creative Resistance (It's better to be a glaneuse than a flaneuse)

Figurations : One Day Symposium, Bartlett School of Architecture (26 April 2018)

With keynotes Nada Subotnic and Jasmina Cibic.

KNOWLEDGE TRANSFER

Engaging with the Architectural Profession

I have worked with architectural organizations such as CABA (Commission for Architecture and the Built Environment) the Architecture Foundation, The RIBA (Royal Institute of British Architects). I was Judge for the RIBA (Royal Institute of British Architects) Dissertation President's Medal, (September 2004) and am now on the advisory board. I am chair of the newly established RIBA (Royal Institute of British Architects) President's Research Awards (June 2006). This involves working with the RIBA to establish research awards for excellence in architectural research within academic institutions and the architectural profession.

I was invited in 2009 to make a contribution to the new book to be published by Pretzel on the new Hawkins\Brown Architects award-winning building for Biochemistry in Oxford. My contribution explores the relation between research processes in architecture and biochemistry.

Engaging with the Building Industry

As part of Spatial Imagination in Design, a one year research cluster funded by the AHRC/EPSRC as part of 'Designing for the 21st Century', I organized a symposium, Spaces of Exchange, CABA (Commission for Architecture and the Built Environment) (January 2006). The conference brought together 60 invited participants from geography and archaeology, as well as art, architecture, design and education, and invited responses from developers, commissioners, and researchers, from CABA, the Architecture Foundation, the Royal Institute of British Architects to discuss the 'uses' of the spatial imagination in the production and use of the built environment.

Engaging with the Culture Industry

I have worked with international art galleries such as the Barbican, the Hayward, the Serpentine, the Tate, the Whitechapel and the BALTIC to promote new understandings of art and architecture, giving talks, chairing events and hosting conversations with artists and architects (see above 'Invited Gallery Talks'). I have written catalogue essays about art and architecture for the general public and gallery audiences (see above 'Catalogue Essays for artists/architects' for details) as well as write the text for a book on the architectural design of the BALTIC.

Since 2009 I have continued to engage with international art galleries to promote new understandings of art and architecture, giving talks, chairing events and hosting conversations with artists and architects, most recently at the Barbican and ICA. I have been invited to write catalogue essays for artists, many of which I have to turn down due to lack of time, but I have recently accepted the invitation to write an essay for the Swedish artist, Apolonija Šušteršič, for a solo show and at MUSAC (Museum of Contemporary Art in Leon, Spain) and accompanying monograph published by ACTAR, Barcelona, and for a publication Direct Urbanism, for the art/urbanism practice Transparadiso to be published by Verlag für moderne Kunst Nürnberg.

Engaging with Public Arts Organisations

I provided the written component for a CD ROM published by the public arts organization – Jubilee Arts – on the role of art in the regeneration of Sandwell, West Bromwich. In 1999 I was invited to give the keynote address to Art and Planning, the Annual Meeting of the Public Art Forum, London and I am on the editorial advisory board of ixia, the re-formed publication branch of the Public Art Forum. I have acted as a consultant for various architects and arts organizations. I was a Trustee for Platform an arts organization involved in environmental and ethical projects 2003–6 and a member of the Judging Panel reviewing submissions for a new public art work for London to commemorate Ken Sarawiwa for Platform in 2005. I am now a member of the Advisory Board

I was invited to deliver the keynote address at One Day Sculpture in Wellington, New Zealand, 2009, a conference held as part of the commissioning of over 20 new art works across New Zealand, and attended by artists, curators and public commissioning bodies. I have been invited as a Research Fellow to advise Situations, a research and commissioning agency, led by Claire Doherty at the University of the West of England, and contributed to their conference of time limits in public art in December 2009.

I was invited by ixia – the public art think tank – to be a member of their Advisory Board but was not able due to lack of time.

I was invited by KOS, The Public Art Museum in Denmark to give a presentation at an international conference they hosted in 2011.

I am also part of the Social Sculpture Research Unit led by Shelley Sacks at Oxford Brookes University.

Engaging with the Psychoanalytic Profession

I was invited, as part of Architecture Week 2007, to host a session at the Freud Museum on Architecture and Psychoanalysis (2006) and I am currently a member of a working group of Psychoanalysts and Academics based at the British Institute of Psychoanalysts, I was invited to give a talk to their Applied Group which deals with the transfer of psychoanalytic concepts into practice with architectural practice muf in February 2009, and will take part in an annual workshop and conference.

Engaging with Housing Activists.

More recent research has engaged directly with housing activists and groups such as 35% and Southwark Notes who have been resisting the regeneration of Elephant and Castle, where I live in South London. This has specifically involved providing evidence as an expert witness for the Public Inquiry into the Compulsory Purchase Orders on the Aylesbury Estate and reported in the Architects Journal.

Engaging with the Fossil Free Divest Movement.

More recent research has engaged directly with fossil fuel divestment in the University, this has involved co-organizing a UCL-wide debate with colleagues in Laws, Medicine and Global Health; proposing a motion and calling for a vote at Academic Board, and engaging with journalists, such as Alice Rose, and most recently working with the London Mining Network.

Curating Exhibitions and Events

Since 1995 I have been involved in the organization of exhibitions and events with associated catalogue publications which engage audiences drawn from the architectural profession, as well as artists and members of the general public in discussions concerning the use of buildings, gendered space, public art, the relation of art and architecture.

Strangely Familiar

I was co-curator of a multi-media exhibition, Strangely Familiar, focusing on narratives of architecture in the city, which toured to the RIBA (Royal Institute of British Architects) Architecture Centre, London, (December 1995–March 1996), the Cornerhouse, Manchester, (April–May 1996), the Angle Gallery, Birmingham, (June–July 1996), the Matthew Gallery, Edinburgh, (November 1996–January 1997). Strangely Familiar attracted £25,000 of funding from Arts Council, British Academy, Routledge, ICA, (Institute of Contemporary Arts) London, UCL and the University of North London. Contributors included Iain Chambers, Barry Curtis, Dolores Hayden, Doreen Massey, Edward Soja, Elizabeth Wilson.

Private-Public: Subjects and Spaces

With members of staff from Chelsea College of Art and Design, I co-organised Private-Public: Subjects and Spaces, a symposium at the ICA, Institute of Contemporary Arts in London (March 1999) which examined the role of the private in public art and design, and included international practitioners such Krzysztof Wodiczko, Joachim Gerz, Art of Change and fat.

Taking Place

With Taking Place, a collective of women artists and architects, I organized an event for women at the University of North London, (22–4 November 2001). This consisted of performances, discussions, talks and readings, which speculated on new directions and strategies in feminist politics and architectural/art practice.

Material Intelligence

In 2003, I was involved in curating an architectural exhibition with Roberta Entwistle who approached staff and students at the Bartlett School of Architecture to contribute to an exhibition at the Entwistle Gallery, Material Intelligence. The works selected for the exhibition in a public art gallery constituted artefacts produced as part of an architectural design process, for example, a drawing, a photograph or an object.

Spatial Imagination

During 2005, as director of a research cluster, Spatial Imagination in Design, funded by the EPSRC and AHRC as part of Designing for the 21st Century, with Dr Peg Rawes and Dr Penelope Haralambidou I co-curated Spatial Imagination. For the exhibition 15 artists, designers, architects, writers and theorists, explored the operation of the spatial imagination through concepts, processes and products, in the form of writings, drawings and installations.

Whirlwinds

As part of Sexuate Subjects, a three-day conference in December 2010 of feminist work in art and architecture, with contributions from Dr Doina Petrescu, FATALE from KTH and Jananne Al-Ani, I chaired Whirlwinds, hosting a day-long series of presentations and performances by approx. 12 practitioners/theorists, with keynotes from Dr Karen Burns and Prof. Dorita Hannah, with Atelier Domino curating works by approx. 6 practitioners/theorists. Selected papers were published in Peg Rawes et al (eds) Poetic Biopolitics (London: IB Tauris, 2107).

TEACHING

From 1994–2000 I taught post-graduate and under-graduate students in art and architecture, in both studio and in history/theory/critical studies, at Winchester School of Art, the University of North London, Kingston University, Chelsea College of Art and Design, the London Institute, the University of Nottingham and part-time at UCL. Since 2000, at the Bartlett School of Architecture, UCL, my full-time teaching role has involved:

BSc Architectural Studies (2002–)

Workshop leader for workshop on Critical Spatial Practice (term 1).

Workshop leader for workshop on Site-Writing (term 2).

Diploma Dissertation Programme (1994–)

Dissertation Group Leader and Tutor: Diploma Dissertation Programme (1994–2003).

Co-ordinator: Diploma Dissertation Programme (2000–3).

Dissertation Tutor: Special Research Study (2005–).

MA Architectural History (2000–)

Module Tutor: MScAH 07 'Research and Dissemination' (2000–)

Module Tutor: MScAH 09 'Critical Methodologies' (2000–)

Supervisor: Final Dissertation (2000–)

Module Leader: MScAH 08 'Theorising Practices: Art, Architecture and Writing' (2002–).

MA Situating Practice (2017–)

I have recently co-authored a new MA with James O'Leary due to start in September 2017, with five new modules, of which I will lead two, to be located between the BSA in Bloomsbury and in Stratford.

PhD Architectural Design and History/Theory (2001–)

PhD Supervisor: PhD Architecture Design (2001–)

PhD Supervisor: PhD Architectural History/Theory/Criticism, (2001–)

Tutor: Architectural Design Research, research training module for the PhD students, (2004–).

Initiator: student-led annual research conference collaboration with the Slade.

I am frequently asked to be an external examiner on MA/March courses, most recently at the Welsh School of Architecture, University of Belfast, Goldsmiths, London College of Communication, University of Kent, but I have to refuse due to lack of time. I have decided at this time to focus the time I have for external examining, on the external examining of PhDs.

PhD Supervision/Examination

PhD Examinations

External Examiner at the University of Middlesex (2003), the University of the Arts, London (2003) and KTH School of Architecture, Stockholm (2007), University of Western Australia (2007), Roehampton (2009), University of Plymouth (2009), RMIT (2010), University of West of England (2011), University of Edinburgh (2011), Sheffield Hallam University (2011), University of Westminster (2011), KTH School of Architecture, Stockholm (2013), Goldsmiths (2013), University of Cambridge (2016), Queen Mary (2016), RCA (2017), Kings College (September 2017).
