Discover London's Global University

OPEN DAY 2018
Saturday, 8 September
10am–4pm

www.ucl.ac.uk/openday

I am delighted that you are considering studying at UCL and pleased to welcome you on campus today. Our Open Days are your opportunity to get to know us, our campus and surroundings, and help you decide if UCL is the right place for you to study.

As London's Global University, you'll discover an open and diverse community of staff and students – all committed to teaching and research of the highest standards. Our location in the heart of London, surrounded by museums, cultural icons and green spaces, means you'll also enjoy a vibrant student experience, both inside and outside of the lecture theatre.

UCL staff and student helpers (in red and yellow) are on hand to be your guides. Please do take the time to wander around and ask any questions you have along the way. I hope you enjoy your visit to UCL.

GETTING STARTED

Find your way

You'll find signs across the site to direct you to the buildings you need and help you find your way around the campus. The UCL campus is divided into four coloured zones: Blue, Green, Yellow and Red, shown in the map at the back of this programme. You will find a map reference code next to each activity for you to locate the area quicker using the map grid. Please feel free to ask our student helpers in yellow, or staff members in red, if you need any further guidance.

TIPS AND HINTS

Find your way around using the icons and map in this booklet...

Don't forget to register

There is no need to register on your arrival, as we register you when you attend your subject talks that you have booked for. We kindly ask you to have the QR code at the ready to be scanned when attending your subject talk at the Open Day. It's important to register at some point during the day to get the latest news and updates from UCL.

First aid and emergencies

A First Aid team will be on call throughout the day. Should you require any assistance please go to their base at Room G17, Ground Floor, Pearson Building (C2) or contact a member of UCL staff wearing red t-shirts that's closest to where you are.

Information points

Visit the white marquees in the Main Quad (C2) and South Quad (C3) or general information and to pick up a UCL Undergraduate Prospectus and printed copies of this programme. Printed copies of this Open Day programme can also be picked up from the Institute of Education, 20 Bedford Way.

Simply ask one of the student helpers (in yellow) or a UCL member of staff (in red) for directions.

Open Day stewards

All of our stewards are current UCL students and are wearing bright yellow t-shirts – they can't be missed! Please don't hesitate to approach them if you are lost or need any information. Top Tip: Ask them about their experience at UCL!

Left luggage

Visitors seeking a place to leave their belongings may use the left luggage services at King's Cross St Pancras and Euston stations. We do not have the facilities to look after your belongings on campus. Please do not ask the stewards to look after your items.

Visitors with disabilities

Staff from Student Disability Services are available at the Student Support and Wellbeing stand at the Student Services Fair in the Jeremy Bentham Room (D2) from 10am – 4pm where you can also have confidential conversations. There will also be a British Sign Language Interpreter available.

Quiet Contemplation Room

Visitors seeking a quiet space during the Open Day may use UCL's Quiet Contemplation Room. The room can be found between the Bernard Katz building and Gordon Street Houses (D3). Ablution facilities for both men and women are also available.

OPEN DAY FAQs

We have put together a whole list of answer for very frequently asked questions from students and parents. Simply scan the QR code to get more information.

SUBJECT TALKS AND TASTERS

On the following pages you will find all the activities offered by our departments. All departments offer subject talks giving you further details about the degree programmes and admissions criteria. These give you a real insight into what studying the programme is really like. Make sure you visit the departmental drop-in sessions for the opportunity to ask more detailed and individual questions about the subjects you're interested in.

If the department offers a tour of their facilities, taster sessions or other activities, you will find all the information about the times and location in this section of the programme. When planning your day, please allow enough time to travel between venues. Please use the Open Day planner on page 42 to plan your day.

TIPS AND HINTS

Our talks are often fully booked, as they are very popular among prospective students.

We kindly ask all additional guests to free up their place in case the seats fill up, to ensure that all prospective students will get the chance to attend their subject talk.

What's so special about Students' Union UCL?

When some students think of "the union" they think it's as a building with student bars. We have bars and cafes too, but the Students' Union UCL is more than a space, it's a service which you can be involved in. You can be an academic rep, vote in elections, read Pi media – it's all Students' Union UCL.

Very few Unions have a volunteering team with as many opportunities as ours. There is an incredible level of support for volunteers, with every kind of project you could think of and even the chance to start your own.

Come and speak to us at the Student Services Fair and meet our Sabbatical Officers, Student Societies Representatives as well as Advice and Volunteering staff.
