

Biodiversity, Ecosystem Services, Social sustainability & Tipping points in African drylands (BEST)

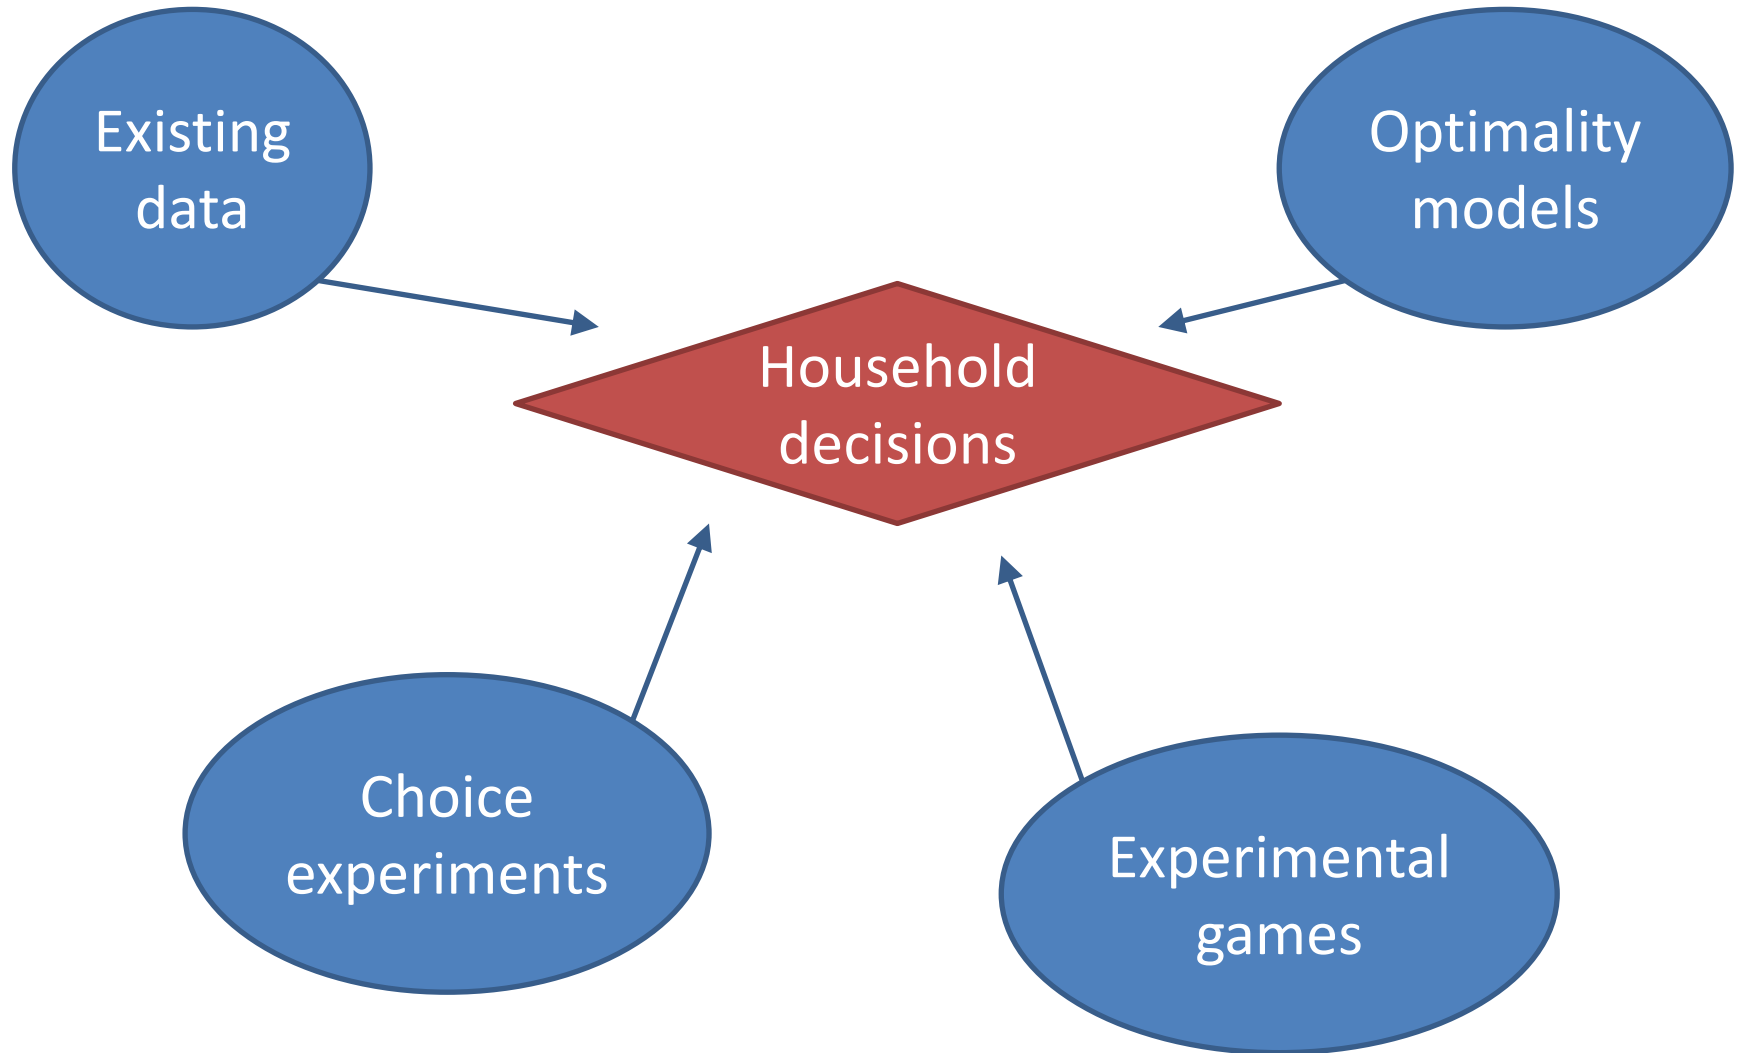

Aims and approach

Overarching research question:

How can policy and economic incentives improve the management of East African rangelands through their effects on pastoralists' livelihood choices, encouraging more economically and ecologically sustainable livelihood choices?

Workshop plan

- Run an experimental game session
- Summary of all results
- Discussion and feedback:
 - Validity and implications of results
 - How best to use them to influence policy