

Fifth Meeting of the joint King's College London, University College London and Royal Veterinary College London organised

London Myology Forum

To be held at UCL Institute of Neurology, 33 Queen Square, London WC1N 3BG

Tuesday 11 May 2010

1.00-1.40 pm: Michael Duchen, UCL. Impaired and calcium signalling and mitochondrial function as routes to muscle dysfunction.

1.40- 2.20 pm: Matthew Wood, Oxford University. RNA based therapies for neuromuscular disease.

2.20 - 3 pm: Coffee and Posters

3- 3.25 pm: Mhoriam Ahmed, UCL ION. Development of an in-vitro model of inclusion body myositis (IBM) in primary rat muscle cultures.

3.25-3.50 pm: Sagair Hussain, KCL. Leonin, a potential novel player in muscle dystrophy?

3.50 - 4.15 pm: Juergen Scharner, KCL. Towards an understanding of the genotype-phenotype correlation in laminopathies.

4.15- 4.55 pm: Jamie Timmons, RVC. Using transcriptomics to study human muscle physiology.

5 pm: Drinks and Nibbles

Registration is free, but if you wish to attend, please email j.morgan@ich.ucl.ac.uk with your name, address and whether you want to present a poster - deadline for registration 4 May 2010

