

Neuromuscular Translational Research Conference 2024

Accommodation Self-Book suggestions

*There are many hotels in the area, as we are situated in one of the main tourist areas of London. The average price in the area for 3* accommodation is around £250-£300 per night. Better deals can be available for those who shop around. The below options are recommended as being budget-friendly and close to the venue.*

- Accommodation is available at the below on a first come first served basis.
- Please check all prices, breakfast etc. when you book – the below prices are a guide at time of writing. Many hotels do not now include breakfast in their cheapest price, but there are numerous cafes in the area.
- Please check cancellation policies for your individual booking – not all t+cs provide refunds for cancellations
