

Downloading References to EndNote from Electronic Resources (Windows)

The databases listed below can be accessed through the GOS ICH Library Website at:
www.ucl.ac.uk/child-health/support-services/library/databases

The instructions below require that you use the Google Chrome browser.

Database name	Instructions for direct export or saving references to import
CINAHL (EBSCOhost)	From the search results screen: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Click on the folder  to the right of each reference you wish to keep. Click on  Folder, at the top of the screen, to view the references you have kept. Select all items in your folder by checking the Select / deselect all box. Click on Export. From the next page, select Direct Export in RIS Format (e.g. CITAVI, EasyBib, EndNote, ProCite, Reference Manager, Zotero) and click on Save. Click to Save the file. Click on the tab that appears in the bottom left corner of the browser. Your EndNote Library should open automatically and display the exported reference.

Cochrane Library

From the search results screen:

- Mark the references you wish to save and click on Export selected citation (s) at the top of the results list.
- Select RIS (EndNote) and click Download.
- Click to Save the file.
- Click on the tab that appears in the bottom left corner of the browser.
- Your EndNote Library should open automatically and display the exported reference.

Explore
(UCL library catalogue)

From the search results screen:

- Select the relevant result within Explore.
- Click on the RIS Endnote option.
- From the Encoding menu Select UTF-8.
- Click on Download.
- Click to Save the file.
- Click on the tab that appears in the bottom left corner of the browser.
- Your EndNote Library should open automatically and display the exported reference.

Google Scholar

To import a single reference

- Click on the double quotes symbol beneath the reference.
- Click on the EndNote link at the bottom of the pop-up window
- Click to Save the file.
- Click on the tab that appears in the bottom left corner of the browser.
- Your EndNote Library should open automatically, or you can select your EndNote library from the window that appears.

To import multiple references

- Sign in to Google.
- Click in the star symbols beneath the references that you wish to send to EndNote
- Click on My Library.
- Tick the checkbox above the list of references to select them all
- Then, click on the down arrow and select EndNote
- Click to Save the file.
- Click on the tab that appears in the bottom left corner of the browser.
- Your EndNote Library should open automatically and display the exported reference.

NICE
Healthcare
Databases
(AMED, BNI,
CINAHL,
EMBASE,
Health
Business Elite,
HMIC,
MEDLINE,
PsycINFO)

From the search results screen:

- Mark the references you wish to save.
- Click on Export.
- From the Format drop-down menu select EndNote.
- From the Fields drop down menu select how you wish your citation to appear.
- Click on Export.
- Click to Save the file.
- Click on the tab that appears in the bottom left corner of the browser.
- Your EndNote Library should open automatically and display the exported reference.

OvidSP Databases

(including
AMED,
EMBASE,
HMIC,
MEDLINE,
PsycINFO)

From the search results screen:

- Mark the references you wish to save.
- At the top of the screen, click on Export.
- From the Format drop-down menu select EndNote.
- From the Fields drop down menu select how you wish your citation to appear.
- Click on Export.
- Click to Save the file.
- Click on the tab that appears in the bottom left corner of the browser. Your EndNote Library should open automatically and display the exported reference.

ProQuest Databases

(including BNI,
MEDLINE,
PsycINFO)

From the search results screen:

- Mark the references you wish to save.
- Above the search results, click on Save.
- Select RIS (works with EndNote, Citavi, etc.) from the drop-down menu.
- Click on Continue.
- Click to Save the file.
- Click on the tab that appears in the bottom left corner of the browser.
- Your EndNote Library should open automatically and display the exported reference.

PubMed

From the search results screen:

- Mark the records that you wish to save.
- Click on the Send to menu.
- Select Citation manager and click on Create File.
- Click to Save the file.
- Click on the tab that appears in the bottom left corner of the browser.
- Your EndNote Library should open automatically and display the exported reference.

From the search results screen:

ScienceDirect
journals
(e.g. Lancet)

- Mark the records that you wish to save.
- Click on Export
- Click on Export citation to RIS.
- Click to Save the file.
- Click on the tab that appears in the bottom left corner of the browser.
- Your EndNote Library should open automatically and display the exported reference.

SCOPUS

From the search results screen:

- Mark the records that you wish to save.
- Click on Export.
- Click on Export citation to RIS.
- Click to Save the file.
- Click on the tab that appears in the bottom left corner of the browser.
- Your EndNote Library should open automatically and display the exported reference.

Web of Science

From the search results screen:

- Tick the boxes next to the articles you want to export.
- Click on the arrow to the right of the Save to EndNote Online drop down menu (above the list of search results).
- Select Save to EndNote desktop.
- Use the drop-down menu to select the record content, then click on Send.
- Click to Save the file.
- Click on the tab that appears in the bottom left corner of the browser.
- Your EndNote Library should open automatically and display the exported reference.

If you regularly use a database which is not mentioned in the table above or in the Help pages, please contact library staff for further information: ich.library@ucl.ac.uk.