

Downloading References to EndNote from Electronic Resources (Mac)

The databases listed below can be accessed through the GOS ICH Library Website at www.ucl.ac.uk/child-health/support-services/library/databases

These instructions work in the Safari browser. Instructions may differ slightly if you are using another browser.

Database name	Instructions for direct export or saving references to import
CINAHL (EBSCOhost)	From the search results screen: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Click on the folder  to the right of each reference you wish to keep.• Click on  Folder (at the top of the screen) to view the references you have kept.• Select all items in your folder by checking the Select / deselect all box.• Click on Export.• From the next page, select Direct Export in RIS Format (e.g. CITAVI, EasyBib, EndNote, ProCite, Reference Manager, Zotero) and click on Save.• The file (called delivery.ris) will save to Downloads.• Drag the file from Downloads to the EndNote icon on your Mac's Dock.• You may then select your EndNote library from the window that appears.

Cochrane Library

From the search results screen:

- Mark the references you wish to save and click on Export selected citations (at the top of the results list).
- Click on RIS(EndNote).
- Tick the checkbox next to Include abstract.
- Click on Download.
- The file (called citation-export.ris) will save to Downloads.
- Drag the file from Downloads to the EndNote icon on your Mac's Dock.
- You may then select your EndNote library from the window that appears.

Explore (UCL library catalogue)

From the search results screen:

To import a single reference

- Click on the speech marks  to the right of the reference that you want to send to EndNote
- Click on RIS (ENDNOTE or REFMAN)
- Click on the Encoding drop-down menu and select UTF-8
- Click on DOWNLOAD
- Save the file that opens and then use Finder to locate the file on your MAC
- Drag the file to the EndNote icon on your MAC's dock
- Select RefMan RIS in the pop-up window and click on Choose

To import a multiple references

- Sign in into UCL Explore (in the top right corner of the screen)
- Click on the pin icon  to the right of any references that you want to send to Endnote.
- Click on your name in the top right corner of the screen and click on Saved Items
- Select all of the items again by ticking the checkbox above the results list (to the left)
- Click on the 3 dots  at the top of the screen
- Click on RIS (ENDNOTE or REFMAN)
- Click on the Encoding drop-down menu and select UTF-8
- Click on DOWNLOAD
- Save the file that opens and then use Finder to locate the file on your MAC
- Drag the file to the EndNote icon on your MAC's dock
- Select RefMan RIS in the pop-up window and click on Choose

Google Scholar

- Access Google Scholar from scholar.google.co.uk
- Carry out a search for the subject of your choice.

To import a single reference

- Click on the double quotes symbol beneath the reference.
- Click on the EndNote link at the bottom of the pop-up window
- Choose to Open the file.
- The file (called scholar.enw) will save to Downloads.
- Drag the file from Downloads to the EndNote icon on your Mac's Dock
- You may then select your EndNote library from the window that appears.

To import multiple references

- Sign in to Google
- Click in the star symbols beneath the references that you wish to send to EndNote
- Click on My Library in the top right corner of the screen
- Tick the checkbox above the list of references to select them all
- Then, click on the down arrow (Export) and select EndNote
- Choose to Open the file.
- The file (called scholar.enw) will save to Downloads.
- Drag the file from Downloads to the EndNote icon on your Mac's Dock
- You may then select your EndNote library from the window that appears.

NICE Healthcare Databases

(AMED, BNI,
EMBASE,
Health Business
Elite, HMIC,
PubMed,
PsycINFO)

From the search results screen:

- Mark the references you wish to save.
- Click on Add to Saved above the list of results.
- Scroll up to the Current search strategy box
- Tick the checkbox to the left of Saved Results
- Click on Export Options column
- From the Output Format drop-down menu, select RIS.
- Click on Save File.
- The file will save to Downloads.
- Drag the file from Downloads to the EndNote icon on your Mac's Dock
- You may then select your EndNote library from the window that appears.

OvidSP Databases

(including
AMED,
EMBASE,
HMIC,
MEDLINE,
PsycINFO)

From the search results screen:

- Mark the references you wish to save.
- At the top of the screen, click on Export.
- Select EndNote from the drop-down Export To menu.
- Choose which fields you want to export and then click on Export Citation(s).
- Choose to Open the file with EndNote and click on OK.
- The file will save to Downloads
- Drag the file from Downloads to the EndNote icon on your Mac's Dock.
- You may then select your EndNote library from the window that appears.

ProQuest Databases

From the search results screen:

- Mark the references you wish to save.
- Above the search results, click on Save.
- Select RIS (works with EndNote, Citavi, etc.) from the drop-down menu.
- Click on Continue.
- The file will save to Downloads
- Drag the file from Downloads to the EndNote icon on your Mac's Dock.
- You may then select your EndNote library from the window that appears.

PubMed

From the search results screen:

- Mark the relevant records.
- Click on the Send to menu.
- Select Citation manager and click on Create File.
- The file will save to Downloads with the name citations.nbib.
- Drag the file from Downloads to the EndNote icon on your Mac's Dock.
- You may then select your EndNote library from the window that appears.

ScienceDirect journals

(e.g. Lancet)

From the table of contents:

- Tick the box(es) next to the article(s) you want to export.
- Click on Export (above the list of articles).
- Under Export file, select RIS (for EndNote, Reference Manager, ProCite)
- Under Content, select how much of the record you wish to import.
- Click on Export.
- The file will save to Downloads
- Drag the file from Downloads to the EndNote icon on your Mac's Dock.
- You may then select your EndNote library from the window that appears.

SCOPUS

From the search results screen:

- Tick the boxes next to the articles you want to export.
- From the menu near the top of the screen, click on Export.
- Select RIS format as the export format. Choose which fields to output, and click on Export.
- The file will save to Downloads
- Drag the file from Downloads to the EndNote icon on your Mac's Dock.
- You may then select your EndNote library from the window that appears.

Web of Science

From the search results screen:

- Tick the boxes next to the articles you want to export.
- To send to EndNote Desktop, Click EndNote Desktop.
- Click export.
- To send to EndNote Online, click Export and EndNote Online
- Click export.
- Your exported search will now display this  logo next to the article record in Web of Science.
- Use the drop-down menu to select the Record Content, then click Export.
- Click to the Save the file.
- Open the tab that appears in the bottom left corner of your browser.
- Your EndNote Library will open automatically and now display the exported reference.

If you regularly use a database which is not mentioned in the table above, please contact library staff for further information: ich.library@ucl.ac.uk.