

Explore is UCL's library catalogue, it is a one-stop service for the discovery and delivery of printed and electronic resources. It is a resource which allows you to search for materials across a range of resources simultaneously.

This guide explains how to:

- Search for books and journals and all other holdings held by UCL Libraries Services
- Search and access online and print journals through the library catalogue
- Search for a database
- Place interlibrary loans and store requests
- Reserve books that are on loan
- Save your search results to your library account
- Export your search results and citations

There is a link to Explore on the ICH Library homepage: https://www.ucl.ac.uk/child-health/support-services/library

1.Finding a specific book

If you are looking for a specific book, select Library catalogue from the drop-down menu to the right hand side of the search box. Type the author's surname and a word from the title into the search box. For example, to find the book Theories of attachment: an introduction to Bowlby, Ainsworth, Gerber, Brezelton, Kennell and Klaus by Carol Mooney:

Click on the Search button, or press the return key.

Any item that matches your search terms will appear in a list, click on the Available link to check the location of the item. The next page will display the number of copies available.

Inter Library Loans

The Inter Library Loans Service is primarily used for material not available through UCL library services. To request an inter library loan you need to click on the link as it appears below. Interlibrary loans are charged at £3 per item.

Please note this option is only available to view in Explore after you have signed into your library account.

5.Reserving a book that is on loan

To reserve a book that is on loan to another reader, first ensure that you are logged into your library account, then locate the book on Explore.

Please note that you cannot place a request on a book if there is at least one copy available at UCL Library.
