

Christopher Carey – curriculum vitae

1. General

Date of Birth - 14 September 1950

Education: Alsop High/Comprehensive School Liverpool and Jesus College Cambridge

Qualifications: BA Cantab (1972), MA PhD Cantab (1976)

2. Appointments

2.1 Academic

1974-7 Research Fellowship, Jesus College Cambridge
1977-91 Lecturer in Greek, University of St Andrews
1987-8 Visiting Professor, Department of Classical and Near Eastern Studies,
University of Minnesota
1988 (March-June) Visiting Professor, Carleton College, Minnesota
1991- Professor of Classics, Royal Holloway, University of London
1996-7 British Academy/Leverhulme Senior Research Fellow
2003- Professor of Greek, University College London
2009-10 British Academy/Leverhulme Senior Research Fellow

2.2 Managerial

Most of my managerial posts have been devoted to new developments/change management, including at Royal Holloway building up the Classics Department as HoD, putting in place the new faculty structures as Dean, preparing for Continuation Audit as Acting Vice-Principal, at the ICS as Acting Director restructuring staffing, reviewing strategy and operations and generating income in preparation for the appointment of a full time Director.

St. Andrews

Admissions Officer (i/c undergraduate admissions), Faculty of Arts 1982-6

American Enrolment Adviser 1985-7

Director of Schools Liaison Services 1986-7

Director of Academic Audit 1990-1

Academic Staff Development Officer 1990-1

London

Royal Holloway

1991-6 Head of Classics Department

1998-2000 Dean of the Faculty of Arts

2001 Acting Vice-Principal (Academic Development) January – April.

University of London

2003-4 Acting Director, Institute of Classical Studies

University College London

2004-2009 Head of Department of Greek and Latin

National

Chair of the Panel 57 for the 2001 RAE

Chair, Classical Association Journals Board, 2009-

President, Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies, 2011-

3. Research

My principal research interests have been in Greek lyric poetry, Greek oratory and law, with forays into tragedy, epic, comedy and political history. To date I have 8 authored books (one in collaboration), 2 (collaboratively) edited books, 70+ articles, chapters and notes, 20 reviews. A list of publications is appended as Annex 2.

4. Teaching and assessment

I have taught at seven universities on two continents, including both Scotland and England within the UK and ranging in size from a small US liberal arts college (Carleton MN) to a multi-faculty state giant (University of Minnesota). Level of teaching ranges from beginners to postgraduate. A list of courses taught is appended as Annex 3. I am also a regular lecturer on the schools circuit and have been actively involved in A level curriculum design.

5. Relaxation

Travel, sites (ancient and modern), walking, reading, theatre, cinema, low-grade DIY.

Chris Carey,
October 2012