

Consent form for writing a clinical case report

I am training to be a clinical psychologist.

To make sure I do a good job I write reports on some of my work.

I would like to write about my work with you. Only my supervisor and staff at UCL will read the report.

I will make sure that no-one can identify you in the report.

If you sign below that means you give consent. This means:

- You agree to me writing a report on our work.
- You understand that you can say 'no'.
- Saying 'no' will not affect our work.
