

General Policy on Use of the Back Door Fridge

- Items stored in this fridge are only for temporary, overnight storage, when access to the main cold stores is unavailable.
- Items must only be stored in here until the following working day.
- Upon, or prior to placement in this fridge, the worker must contact the lab staff responsible for storage and inform them of details of the material: who they are for, what they are, approximately how many. Item codes and dates. The worker will then be advised on a storage or alternate arrangement so the items can be removed from the fridge on the next working day.
- Failure to remove the samples will mean they are unwanted and will therefore be disposed of.
