

CCSC Visiting Fellowship (Non-Stipendiary) Application Form

The UCL Critical Childhood Studies Centre (CCSC) is a home for world-leading scholarship about childhood as a socio-political, cultural, and historical phenomenon in diverse global contexts. The Centre provides a focal point for faculty and students at all levels in UCL to engage in innovative and multi-disciplinary research, teaching, and public engagement geared towards achieving social justice with and for children and young people.

We invite researchers engaged in the study of childhood from critical and non-normative perspectives, be these interdisciplinary or disciplinary in orientation, to apply for the CCSC Visiting or Virtual Fellowship (Non-Stipendiary).

FOR IN-PERSON FELLOWSHIPS

Sources of funding during your time at the IAS

Please confirm Right to Work in the UK

This is required, even though it is a non-stipendiary position.

FOR VIRTUAL FELLOWSHIPS

Why are you applying for a Virtual Fellowship?

We anticipate people will apply for Virtual Fellowships due to legal, financial, or other structural barriers to mobility and/or because their Fellowship project has a focus on in situ research - particularly where local infrastructures have been destroyed / depleted.

FOR ALL FELLOWSHIPS

Research proposal:

Summary of work that you intend to do as a CCSC Visiting Fellow and how it fits in with your larger research project and indicate its potential interdisciplinary reach (max. 1 page).

Why would you like to be at the CCSC/UCL?

If there are specific individuals that you hope to work with, please specify here (max. 150 words).

How do you envisage your work fitting with the CCSC?

Please provide an indicative plan or outline of activities that you propose to carry out to contribute to the CCSC during the Fellowship. (max. 150 words)

Will you be collecting data during your visit? Yes/No (Delete as appropriate)

If yes, has ethical approval been granted? Yes/No (Delete as appropriate)

If yes, from whom?

In-person Fellowships

We will provide shared desk space, membership of the CCSC and IAS research communities, onsite access to UCL resources including the library, full participation in CCSC and IAS events (e.g. seminars, workshops and conferences) and a framework in which you can present your research and participate in a research community.

In return, we ask that you make a case as to why being at the Centre will be beneficial for you and how, in turn, you will contribute to the CCSC and to the IAS. We would expect you to be on UCL campus at least once/week during term-time, but we will consider alternative arrangements in exceptional cases.

All new Visiting Research Fellows will have a Right to Work check carried out when they arrive (this is required, even though it is a non-stipendiary position), so if you are coming from overseas, please ensure that you are travelling on the correct visa. You can check this here

Virtual Fellowships

We anticipate people will apply for Virtual Fellowships due to legal, financial, or other structural barriers to mobility and/or because their Fellowship project has a focus on in situ research - particularly where local infrastructures have been destroyed / depleted.

We will provide membership of the CCSC and IAS research communities, participation in online CCSC and IAS events, and a framework in which you can present your research and participate in a research community (e.g., online meetings and events with Centre members and the public).

In return, we ask that you make a case as to why being at the Centre will be beneficial for you and how, in turn, you will contribute to the CCSC and to the IAS using online fora.

Please e-mail your completed form, a short CV and sample article/chapter to critical.childhood@ucl.ac.uk
