Faculty Focus - January 2017

Spotlight on...

Professor Jawwad Darr, Vice-Dean (Enterprise)

In my role as Vice-Dean for Enterprise, I want to do what I can to better embed a culture of enterprise in our faculty, not only from taught courses, but also within the researchers and academics. I would like to help academics and others to know how to better talk to industry and I want to give them the opportunities (via networking and other events), to seek out those who can support them in order to move the research up the technology readiness levels.
