

MBBS Curriculum Map: Terms of Use

The curriculum map is part of UCL's learning provision for students and staff. The information contained in the curriculum map is subject to change and it is your responsibility to be aware of any changes. In using the curriculum map, you agree to comply with these terms of use.

Access to and use of the curriculum map is subject to your compliance with all applicable laws, your student relationship contract with UCL and all relevant UCL policies, including the UCL Computing Regulations (supporting guidance for which can be found at <https://www.ucl.ac.uk/informationsecurity/policy>).

You must not use the curriculum map or associated services to access, store, distribute or transmit any computer viruses or any other material that is unlawful, harmful, threatening, defamatory, obscene, infringing, harassing or racially or ethnically offensive; facilitates illegal activity; depicts sexually explicit images; promotes unlawful violence; is discriminatory based on race, gender, colour, religious belief, sexual orientation, disability; or in a manner that is otherwise illegal or causes damage or injury to any person or property.

The material contained in the curriculum map belongs to UCL and/or its staff or third party licensors. You must not attempt to copy, modify, duplicate, create derivative works from, frame, mirror, republish, download, display, transmit, or distribute all or any portion of the material contained in the curriculum map that does not originate from you in any form or media or by any means.

Access to and use of the curriculum map is restricted to specific students and staff. You must not share your access credentials or permit any other person to access and/or use the curriculum map. If you believe there has been any unauthorised access or use, you must notify UCL promptly.

If you use the curriculum map in a manner that is in breach of UCL policies or these terms, i) your access to and use of the curriculum map may be suspended and/or revoked, ii) you may be subject to disciplinary and/or other action.
