

Table Texts

Table texts are an important tool in Egyptian mathematics. The majority of the extant table texts are tables for fraction reckoning, the most famous of which is the 2:n table. In addition there are also tables for the conversion of different measures. Among the Lahun mathematical fragments is a copy of the 2:n table (UC 32159).