Information for Applicants

Post Graduate Certificate in Low Intensity Cognitive Behaviour Interventions

Psychological Wellbeing Practitioners (PWPs)

It is essential that applicants read this information along with the job description and person specification in order to make a successful application.
Introduction and use information

PWP training is delivered in-person at UCL (Bloomsbury campus), with some online learning. Therefore, all applicants should be prepared to come into Central London for their training at UCL as well as have the facility to work remotely.

All trainees are employed in an IAPT service and will be expected to attend work in the office for at least part of the week as per each individual IAPT service requirements.

The above is subject to no further COVID-19 restrictions. Should this change, then the requirement to come into both UCL and into your IAPT service will be reviewed alongside government and NHS guidance.

Please find links below to resources that you might find useful to know more about our trainees’ experiences of the UCL course, and a webinar on becoming a PWP in IAPT:

1. Short clips that previous PWP trainees have made to tell you about their experiences of the UCL course and training in local London services click here and here
2. A webinar that a London service has produced that provides information on what IAPT is, the importance of a diverse workforce, how to apply and become a PWP and a day in the life of a PWP/ myth busting about IAPT and PWP role.

HEE Update on Funding for Psychological Professions

HEE has implemented a policy change for future eligibility on NHS funding specific psychological professions’ training programmes for individuals who wish to undertake more than one NHS-funded training.

The policy change means that from 1st April 2022, those entering other NHS-funded psychological professions’ trainings would only become eligible for HEE training funding (incl. Doctorate in Clinical Psychology) two years after the qualifying exam board in the original training. The full statement can be found on the HEE website.

Background

University College London (UCL) is recruiting PWPs on behalf of services who are looking for trainees to work in their area. Vacancies are advertised and recruitment is undertaken on behalf of services across London.

PWPs will attend university one day a week and work in services the remaining four days. For further information about the IAPT programme, please see the NHS England website: https://www.england.nhs.uk/mental-health/adults/iapt/

Each training place involves being on a full-time training contract within a London NHS Improving Access to Psychological Therapies (IAPT) Service for the duration of the one-year training.

Training course fees on this programme are fully funded by the NHS. In addition, trainees will receive a salary from the London IAPT service where they undertake their 4-day a week placement over the year of the programme. This is likely to be a full time NHS band 4 or equivalent salary, as in previous years. Shortlisted candidates will be informed of the agreed salary on offer of interview.

We do not currently accept applications from international students unless they have no restrictions on working and studying in the UK for at least one year from starting the course. The programme is not eligible for student sponsorship as part-time courses cannot be sponsored at UCL.

We have also received guidance from UK Visas & Immigration (UKVI) that this programme is not eligible under the Graduate Route visa scheme.

Candidates are asked to indicate on their application form, at the top of the personal statement, two preferences for the service/employer they wish to work for. There is no guarantee that successful candidates will get their preference. Candidates who do not indicate a preference will simply be allocated to a site at random. There is further information set out below about the correct way to indicate your preference.

Please note that services and employers participating in IAPT recruitment in London may change without notice. Please also note that London reserves the right to adjust the location of trainee positions based on the needs of the programme. Terms and Conditions will vary dependent on which organisation is your employer. A list of the participating employers/services can be found in appendix 4.

Interviews unfortunately cannot be rearranged if candidates are unavailable. Interviews are planned for the first half of July 2023.

These intakes will start in October 2023. Applicants are not able to choose when their cohort starts and successful candidates must be available to start the course at the allocated time.

Training and Jobs
Higher Education Institutes (HEI) have been selected to provide the training. These HEI’s have been selected based on their ability to demonstrate the capacity, knowledge and expertise to deliver the curriculum that has been developed for each training course. UCL will offer training courses for PWPs.

We believe a diverse workforce is essential for meeting the needs of London’s communities. We actively promote a culture of inclusion and seek applicants from across communities and age groups.

Who Should Apply?
Applicants are required to show:

- Evidence of ability to study successfully at postgraduate level. This can be demonstrated by a good degree at undergraduate level, or by an equivalent academic qualification (for example a Diploma). Substantial work experience and achievements at work can also be considered.

• Evidence that they have a broad understanding of mental health issues and the skills to form a good helping relationship with people with mental health problems. This can be obtained through study, work or volunteer experience with people who have experienced a mental health problem.

This document gives a brief description of those services/employers who are looking to recruit trainees to start in February 2023. This list may change at any given time during or after the recruitment process and there is no guarantee that successful candidates will be employed by the service/employer of their choice. The recruitment panel, on behalf of the London IAPT clinical executive, will endeavor to match people with their specified preferences wherever possible.

Employers are listed by Low Intensity/Psychological Wellbeing Practitioner (LI/PWP) stating the areas they provide services for.

Candidates should give preferences for no more than two employers/services, either for the employer or for the specific service covered by that employer e.g.

I wish to be considered for the post of trainee PWP in CANDI. My second preference is to be considered for the post of trainee PWP in CNWL

Or

I wish to be considered for the post of trainee PWP in City and Hackney. My second preference is to be considered for the post of trainee PWP in Bromley.

It is important that applicants indicate their service/employer preference in the first line of the ‘supporting statement’ as described in the information packs.
Please note the following is a list of services which are expected to participate in the next recruitment process for intakes starting in October 2023:

Barking & Dagenham

Talking Therapies Barking & Dagenham provides psychological treatment for people in the community with mild to moderate symptoms of depression and specific anxiety disorders.

Talking Therapies Barking and Dagenham can provide treatment for people who experience difficulties including: Depression, Panic, Phobia, Agoraphobia, Social Phobia, Health Anxiety, Obsessive Compulsive Disorder, Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder, medically unexplained physical symptoms and long-term conditions. This allows our trainees to gain experience in assessing a number of different mental health presentations.

We offer a range of therapies including: CBT Based guided self-help delivered by PWPs, and Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT), Interpersonal Psychotherapy (IPT), Dynamic Interpersonal Therapy (DIT), Couples Therapy for depression, Behavioural Couples Therapy, (delivered by CBT Therapists and counsellors) and a wide selection of courses, groups and workshops. We also have a Physical Activity Coordinator who works closely with therapists to provide additional support and advice.

As a service, we have developed a robust group program to support a variety of clients. These group programmes include a PTSD workshop, worry management group, sleep improvement group, stress management group, and a depression group. We are continuously developing our long-term conditions pathway; at present we are developing a pain management group, a group for clients with diabetes, and a group for clients with long covid. We are an innovative team and welcoming of new ideas for groups. As such, some of these groups were created and developed by PWPs and CBT therapists in the last few months.

We pride ourselves on being a supportive service continually promoting the professional development of our staff. Clinicians regularly receive in-house training as well as external training delivered by services within and outside the NHS. Trainee PWPs will have weekly case management supervision, weekly clinical skills supervision, and line management supervision monthly. We also have a duty supervisor that is available daily to support with supervision of triage cases.

We are currently predominantly working remotely and offer telephone, video sessions, and face to face sessions. Staff typically work one day a week in the office, which staff have found to be beneficial with regards to maintaining team cohesion and for developing and maintaining face to face clinical skills. Staff wellbeing is most important to the trust and TTBD, this is demonstrated with our wellbeing initiative which staff are actively encouraged to engage with regularly via email and at our zoom lunches.

Barnet and Enfield

Barnet and Enfield IAPT services (http://www.letstalk-iapt.nhs.uk/) are provided by Barnet, Enfield and Haringey Mental Health Trust, and work in partnership with local voluntary sector organizations. Both are lively, forward-thinking IAPT services delivering evidenced based psychological therapies across a large part of multi-cultural North London. Both services are seeking highly committed, enthusiastic and forward-thinking people to join their teams. We would particularly like to encourage applications from suitable candidates who can speak fluently in a second language to English, particularly Turkish/Kurdish (Enfield service), and Farsi (Barnet service). The main Barnet base is at Edgware Community Hospital, with a second satellite service at Finchley Memorial Hospital in Barnet. The Enfield service is based at Chase Farm Hospital, with more clinic rooms available at St Michaels Primary Care Centre. All sites are easily accessible via public transport.

Provision of supervision for all of our staff, including our trainees, is a key part of the work of our senior staff. As well as regular individual supervision sessions, we have a duty supervisor available every day to discuss any urgent issues. Both services offer a program of continuous professional development to all qualified staff, as well as monthly business and separate step meetings for all. The wellbeing of staff is a key priority, and both services offer a range of wellbeing initiatives and activities, some specific to IAPT and others provided by the trust.

Barnet Enfield and Haringey Mental Health Trust have been running IAPT services since the wave 1 roll out in 2008. Both the Barnet and the Enfield services offer step 2 guided self-help, and step 3 CBT and counselling therapies, as well as EMDR and other modalities such as IPT and Behavioural Couples Therapy. Between the two services we currently employ over 150 staff, delivering treatments to over 12000 people a year. As a consequence of the Covid 19 pandemic, both services now offer video and telephone-based options as well as face to face therapy, and working patterns which include a combination of remote working and working on site in place.

Mind in Bexley (IAPT) services are also delivered from several GP surgeries across the borough. Currently, the Mind in Bexley (IAPT) service is also being delivered from several children’s centres in the borough, ensuring that parents of babies and young children can access services in an environment specifically compatible with their needs.

Brent
The CNWL Talking Therapies Brent service is a large and well-established service and integrated with clinicians and the Employment workers (managed by Twining Enterprise) working collaboratively. Alongside high and low intensity CBT interventions, the service also has a counselling service which provides DIT, IPT and brief counselling. Individual and group-based treatments are provided. Trainee PWPs are supported with supervision, skill development and a good record of retaining trainees into qualified positions. We welcome applicants who are interested in working with diverse communities and who have local knowledge of and connections to the borough.

The service has their main bases at Fairfields House in Kingsbury and Bell House at Willesden, both have good public transport link and access to parking. Both hubs are comfortable buildings with the required IT resources. The service works in partnership with various community organisations within the borough, physical healthcare teams and also secondary care mental health services and has pathways established for step ups and step downs. The service also works closely with other CNWL Talking Therapies services in other boroughs managed by the same Trust.

The service meets a good level of need given current resources, and also has good recovery rates. There are clear and well-defined systems for triaging and screening of incoming referrals, allocation of clients to step 2 and step 3, management of waiting lists and stepping up and stepping down clients as appropriate. Regular case management and clinical skills supervision are provided to all staff and there is a good system for peer support. Currently the service operates a ‘blended’ and agile working model, with staff offering in person, telephone and video appointments based on patient need and choice. Trainees will be expected to be based on site as well as remotely, on their clinical placement days for peer support, supervision, observation and working with patients face to face. Staff wellbeing is actively supported in supervision, through wellbeing champions in the team and an ongoing agenda in all meetings.

Bromley Healthcare is a great place to work. The unique way we deliver services and offer everyone who works here a voice, means that your career with us will be rewarding. Social Enterprises are a fairly new and exciting way to deliver healthcare, offering many of the traditional advantages of the NHS (such as excellent training and development) with the freedom for innovation by being able to reinvest any surpluses we make into the community.

Camden iCope & Islington iCope

Camden and Islington are lively and diverse inner-London boroughs. The Camden and Islington NHS Foundation Trust (C&I) runs well-established IAPT services including Camden iCope and Islington iCope, https://www.icope.nhs.uk

We pride ourselves on celebrating our diversity, having exceptional staff well-being initiatives, and a strong programme of continued professional development (CPD). We strive to offer excellent care to our patients and fundamental to our work are C&I’s four cultural pillars.

Our IAPT services are strongly embedded with primary care teams, with staff based in almost all GP practices. During Covid-19, we have been following government guidelines and are delivering services remotely. We hope to offer all staff the opportunity to work from home as well as from the office in 2021/22.

During your training year you will be supported by a large, friendly, multidisciplinary team. You will have your own one-to-one case management supervisor who you will meet with weekly for one hour. You will also have regular support from your line manager and senior PWPs. We will work with you to build up your clinical caseload in a manageable way over time whilst completing the Low Intensity CBT training course.

Strong and well-established links with the community and voluntary sector partners help us to connect with and reach out to both Boroughs’ diverse communities. The Camden and Islington IAPT teams work in an integrated way, sharing resources and expertise, reflective spaces, and staff knowledge. C&I has a long history of research, development and service innovation in primary care mental health and psychological interventions, which is facilitated by our strong working relationship with University College London (UCL).

We are looking for dynamic, reflective, and motivated individuals to attend the Pg. Cert training to deliver Low-Intensity CBT based psychological interventions in Camden or Islington. Following completion of training, we encourage our practitioners to continue to develop professionally in the role of Psychological Wellbeing Practitioner, for e.g., taking on lead roles in specialist areas, engaging with or running reflective spaces, training in supervisory roles to name a few.

We pride ourselves on being diverse, friendly, and supportive teams and encourage those applicants to apply who feel that their values align with our ethos.

(The ability to speak other languages fluently is an advantage; we have a particular need for Turkish, Sylheti and Somali speakers due to prevalence of these languages in C&I)

City & Hackney

Talk Changes – City and Hackney IAPT is a dynamic and high performing IAPT service. Our recovery rate for 2020-2021 was 63%, which is higher than the national average of 51%, despite higher levels of social deprivation in the borough of Hackney.

The service is led by a Clinical Lead, two Deputy Clinical Leads and a Service Manager who provide clinical, operational and strategic leadership. We have a strong supervision structure within the service from a team of Senior CBT Therapists and supervisors. Our Step 2 Team consists of 27 Psychological Wellbeing Practitioners and Senior Psychological Wellbeing Practitioners, Deputy Low Intensity Lead and Low Intensity Lead, with structured supervision provision for assessments and treatment. The service has an emphasis on continuing professional development with a programme of regular clinical skills workshops offered throughout the year. We provide the supervision and CPD required to enable our therapists to gain and maintain BABCP accreditation.

We operate a clear stepped care model and have strong links with the Low Intensity training course at UCL, where some of our staff are also course tutors. The majority of patients are offered Low Intensity interventions as a first line treatment, although some presentations (e.g. PTSD and social anxiety) go straight to High Intensity.

We are part of Homerton University Hospital NHS Foundation Trust, which means that we are particularly well placed to integrate IAPT services for people with Long Term Medical Conditions. We also have strong links with other providers of psychological therapy in the borough as part of the City and Hackney Psychological Therapies Alliance.

There is a research culture within the service; we have close links with the Department of Psychology at Royal Holloway and a regular schedule of research projects. We take an active role in the newly established North Central and East London IAPT Research and Service Improvement Network.

In addition to CBT the service also offers Behavioural Couples Therapy, Interpersonal Therapy, Mindfulness Based Cognitive Therapy and Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing Therapy.

We have recently significantly expanded our Employment Support team as part of a DWP pilot project to increase the number of Employment Advisor’s working within IAPT to a ratio of 1 Employment Advisor to 8 therapists.

We are well resourced with both clinical rooms and office space available at our base, the Louis Freedman Centre for Wellbeing at St Leonard's Hospital. We have 30 rooms for direct clinical work and one group room. In addition to this many of our therapists also provide clinical sessions in GP practices throughout the borough. Staff have ready access to administration space at all times as well as a central staff kitchen with tea and coffee making facilities. Currently, most staff are working remotely during the pandemic, with the expectation that all staff will return to working on site for at least part of their working week as pandemic restrictions are eased.
