Module description

The module gives students an overview of bi-lingual and multi-lingual phenomena and theories of bi-/multi-lingual acquisition. A second aim is to understand the cognitive structures and processes involved when multiple languages are available to an individual. The course will also introduce students to the methods of psycholinguistics research, such as priming methodologies, reading and visual-world eye-tracking, Event Related Potential, etc. as these are applied in Bi- or Multi-lingual research.

Generic tutor feedback
Oral feedback is given to the whole class (eg this may be about coursework, an in-class or online task)	Х
Electronic feedback to the whole group (eg see oral feedback above)	Х Printed feedback to the whole group (eg answers to an exercise done in class, feedback relating to general performance on coursework or a task etc) Coverage of topics in class which have been raised by members of the class (eg in areas where students ask for clarification/elaboration, these topics are addressed in class) Electronic responses to the whole group via the VLE or via email (eg sending replies to individual	x queries to the whole group)
Other generic tutor feedback (please give details)
Automated foodback Automated feedback Tests / quizzes within VLE These are tests which do not count towards the module mark, but serve to inform students of how well they are understanding materials taught.
Personal Response Systems used within class (eg to test that students understand a concept, to	+ survey which topics students would like elaborated)
Other automated feedback (please give details)
Other dutomated Jeedbuck (piedse give details)
Specific, targeted tutor feedback
Oral responses within class (eg demonstrators talking to students in lab, stats and computing classes)	Х
Oral responses outside class (eg students are invited to telephone or meet with module staff with individual queries regarding topics taught)
Electronic responses to queries from individual students are provided (as above)	X
Summative comments on coursework (eg handwritten feedback at the end of a written assessment	Х which counts towards the module mark)
On-script comments in the body of individual summative coursework	Х
Indication of achievement against set marking criteria (eg for an individual essay or a lab report)	Х
Feedback using a standard feedback form (eg essay feedback form or lab marking forms) Oral feedback on coursework talking to individual students about their coursework on the phone or in person, this could be summative points or specific comments on parts of the essay / lab report / project
Electronic feedback on coursework This could be via email or on a VLE (eg using Gradebook on Moodle)
Other specific, targeted tutor feedback (please give details)
Foodback from monto other than module staff
Feedback from people other than module staff Peer feedback: fellow students commenting on/marking each other's work, or working together on a task (eg group work providing students with feedback on their ideas/understanding)
Self-feedback (eg students evaluating their own coursework, worksheet answers, etc) Feedback from seminar tutors Students may receive feedback on their understanding of topics/answers to queries/feedback on coursework from their tutor (eg poster, Research Project presentations etc)
Other feedback from those not teaching module (please give details)	1
The state of the s
Feedback related to examinations
A mock examination is given to help students prepare for the final exam
Marks for the previous year provided online, with a breakdown of marks for individual questions
Samples of real student work , such as coursework, exam essays, and projects from previous students on the module.
Other exam-related feedback (please give details)	•

5. Specific transferable skills (categorised into skill areas) Transferable students on this module can expect to develop Academic Learning Actively - Able to approach learning as an active agent, taking responsibility for the process and outcomes Analysing Data - Able to filter and organise information to develop an argument and work toward a conclusion, applying numerical analysis where appropriate Thinking Critically - Able to consider claims made against the evidence available and to develop one's own view systematically Using Sources - Able to locate and use appropriate books, journals, websites and other sources to gather relevant data Solving Problems - Able to use systematic approaches to overcome difficulties in producing a desired outcome Managing Projects - Able to plan a coordinated set of tasks and enact over time to produce a substantial result Self-management Reflecting on Learning - Able to review dispassionately one's approaches to learning and the outcomes and progressively improve the process. Managing Time - Able to prioritise tasks and commitments to achieve optimum results in a designated timeframe Being Creative / Innovative - Able to generate and apply original approaches to tasks and problems and produce improved outcomes Assessing Oneself - Able to identify one's own strengths, weaknesses, progress made and action needed to improve effectiveness Being Independent - Able to work at own initiative with minimal supervision, taking responsibility for action and outcomes Managing Resources - Able to allocate and conserve funds and other resources on a day to day basis and to support projects Communication Writing - Able to communicate in textual forms (essays, reports, journal entries, web pages etc.) in an appropriate style with a clear narrative flow Listening - Able to hear and appreciate the content, background and purpose of what someone else is communicating to you Using Information Technology - Able to use digital technology for managing information and to mediate communication for learning and other purposes Presenting - Able to speak to an audience, using visual aids as appropriate and respond to questions Communicating globally - Able to understand and manage factors affecting communication across cultures, including learning other languages Planning and making decisions - Able to identify steps needed to work towards goals and communicate them, including means of monitoring progress Working with others Working in teams - Able to co-operate with others, to contribute your strengths and learn from theirs with a common purpose Negotiating - Able to respect the needs and interests of others when they differ from your own and to find common ground Leading - Able to galvanise a team into cooperative action, to manage, guide or facilitate a group to maximise Understanding others - Able to recognise the variety of ways in which people can think and approach tasks, adjusting your own to suit Assessing self and peers - Able to assess your own performance objectively and to give and receive constructive feedback with others Managing change - Able to adapt to changing circumstances and maintain focus on the group's declared goals Other transferable skills developed in this module
