The venue for this study tour is the Wolfcastle Hotel, near Haverford West, and we are fortunate to be benefiting from the experience and knowledge of Professors Timothy Darvill and Geoffrey Wainwright. We will be looking at a wide range of well-preserved sites in one of the finest landscapes in Europe.

All excursions will be by mini-bus and it should be noted that site visits will include walks across difficult terrain, occasionally covering several kilometres. Appropriate clothing, such as walking boots and waterproofs, is highly recommended.

N.B. Advice for members
- Members must take out their own personal & belongings insurance. The Society can accept no liability with regards to personal injury or loss or damage to belongings.
- Participation in this tour requires an adequate level of personal fitness as a number of the site visits will involve walks up (and down) steep hills. It is anticipated, too, that on a couple of occasions we will be away from the coach for the entire day.
