

PhD Secondments in DWP

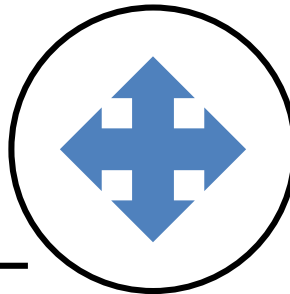

Support your professional development with real experience of working in a Government department

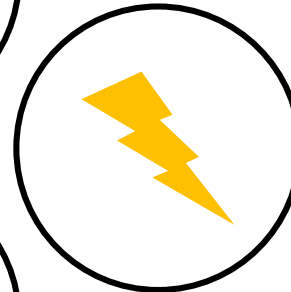

Apply cutting-edge research skills and methods from your academic discipline in a public services setting

Meet people and strengthen your existing academic network with Civil Service contacts

Undertake analysis that will inform evidence-based decisions on DWP policy and operations

Develop your communication skills and produce an output that contributes to the DWP evidence base

For more information on secondment opportunities available in DWP and details on how to apply, please see the associated application pack and material, or get in touch via evidence.strategyteam@dwp.gov.uk if you have further questions.