

Conference schedule

Wednesday 7th September

- 09.45 – 10.00: Welcome by Professor May Cassar, CBE (UCL)
- 10.00 – 10.30: Nicholas Crabb (SEAHA student): "Evaluating contemporary digital technologies for the reconstruction and mapping of archaeological resources in alluvial environments"
- 10.30 – 11.00: Anna Edmonds (SEAHA student): "3D immersive audio experiences for public engagement in urban outdoor heritage sites"
- 11.00 – 11.30: Richard Higham (SEAHA student): "Simulating trenching for archaeological evaluation: Comparing the variability of results and dealing with the problem of false negatives "
- 11.30 – 12.00: Keynote speech by Jake Ciborowski (University of Brighton)
- 12.00 – 12.30: Blen Teye (Winning submission to the PhD and early career researcher networking event) "The need to make research data more accessible"
- 12.30 – 13.00: Athina Petsou (Winning submission to the PhD and early career researcher networking event) "Communicating with different disciplines"
- 13.00 – 15.00: Lunch break
- 15.00 – 15.30: Mike Kelly (SEAHA student): "What does transparent research look like?"
- 15.30 – 16.00: Antanas Melinas (SEAHA student): "Accelerating to slow down: Improving conditions for the safe storage of early glass"
- 16.00 – 16.30: Robin Talbot (SEAHA student): "Historic churches and sustainability – finding faith in net-zero targets"
- 16.30 – 17.00: Keynote speech by Eric Breitung (Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York)
- 17.00 – 19.00: In-person networking event for Heritage Science PhD students and early career researchers

Thursday 8th September

- 09.00 – 09.30: Keynote speech by Fenella France (Library of Congress)
- 10.00 – 10.30: Tim Baxter (SEAHA student): "Managing marine wildlife on maritime built heritage"
- 10.30 – 11.00: Daire Browne (SEAHA student): "Monitoring water transport kinetics in porous building materials using cavity ring-down spectroscopy"
- 11.30 – 12.00: Sam Woor (SEAHA student): "The sands of time: luminescence dating, palaeoenvironments and archaeology in South East Arabia"
- 12.00 – 13.00: Panel discussion with SEAHA alumni (Alexandra Bridarolli, Lucie Fusade, Mark Kearney, Keats Webb) chaired by Josep Grau-Bove (UCL)
- 13.00: End of conference