77 DECLARATION OF INTERESTS

77.1 No interests were declared.

78 MINUTES

78.1 Minute 67.2 was amended to read as follows:

Challenges faced by the School included below-sector average NSS scores in 2016. Feedback to students had been the principal cause. It was also felt that there was scope for improvement on communications with students. It was noted that BEAMS faced challenges in delivering the requirements of the personal tutoring system; this was the result of a significant proportion of teaching being delivered by colleagues from industry, which placed a disproportionate burden on academic staff.
78.2 Approved: the Minutes of the meeting held on 30 March 2017 [Council Minutes 59-76, 2016-17] were confirmed by Council and signed by the Chair, subject to the amendment above.

Matters for discussion

79 STRATEGY OVERVIEW AND ACADEMIC LEADERSHIP

[PAPER 5-58 (16-17)]

79.1 The Provost outlined the highlights, challenges and risks against the UCL 2034 Principal Themes and Key Enablers, as well as proposals for medium-term goals as requested by Council at the Away Day in 2016, and a report on progress against Principal Theme 1.

79.2 Council welcomed progress indicated in the dashboard, noting that progress against the Principal Themes in UCL2034 was generally more advanced than that for the Enablers such as finance and the estate. Two KPIs per theme had been included in response to Council's request in 2016; detail on the full range of KPIs against each Key Enabler could be made available on request.

79.3 Members discussed the principal issues contributing to the ‘amber’ and ‘red’ designations against Key Enabler A (student support) and the steps being taken to address these, as well as Enabler B (valuing our staff). In discussing the KPI relating to the proportion of undergraduate students from low income background, it was suggested that it might be useful to see comparative data against other institutions.

80 SUSTAINABLE ESTATE

[PAPER 5-59 (16-17)]

80.1 The Vice-Provost (Operations) and the Director of UCL Estates updated Council on progress against Key Enabler E, ‘Maintaining a Sustainable Estate’. The Capital Programme had been approved by Council in October 2014 [Council Minute 19, 2014-15], since which time a planning process had been established and financial arrangements clarified.

80.2 The current and coming academic years represented the peak of activity on the Bloomsbury Estate. A number of key projects were now coming on stream, with 22 Gordon Street having recently been completed and the Wilkins Terrace / Lower Refectory due for completion shortly. The opening of the new Student Centre in 2018 would be a key milestone; the project was currently ahead of schedule. The focus of activity would then shift away from the core campus, with major projects scheduled for Queen Square House, the Institute of Education at Bedford Way, and Stratford. The opportunities and challenges for the estate associated with the merger with the Institute of Education were noted.

80.3 Council discussed a number of issues including the recruitment of staff to support this high volume of activity, and details of the facilities to be developed at the new Student Centre and Clare Hall. It was suggested that Council henceforth receive an update on the Estate Strategy on an annual basis.

81 LONDON STRATEGY

81.1 The Vice-Provost (Enterprise and London) outlined the early development of the UCL London Strategy, summarising the vision statement as ‘for UCL to be recognised for making a tangible difference for London’.

81.2 Eight objectives had been identified, and possible outcomes for UCL and its key stakeholders were explored. Much of the activity identified in the Strategy could be considered ‘business as usual’, but the Strategy would enable the better identification, description, and communication of such activity, and the key areas in which UCL might wish to do more.

81.3 Council discussed engagement with external parties, including the Mayor of London, and that part of the population with little awareness of universities or their activities, noting the importance of telling the ‘story’ of UCL in London. Members discussed the relationship between UCL’s London Strategy and its ambitions as London’s Global University, the lack of a dominant ‘civic’ university in London and the potential of the city to develop a global hub of activity of the type found in Boston or Silicon Valley.

81.4 Council thanked Dr Caulcott for her report. A further presentation would be scheduled once the Strategy and its KPIs had been further developed.
