Your BRP is an important document and you should look after it carefully. It is proof of your right to stay, work or study in the UK and may be used as a form of identification (for example, when setting up to lank account). You will need your BRP (as well as your passport) for travel to and from the UK. Your permission to stay in the UK ends on 31 May 2027

If your BRP expires on 31 December 2024

All BRPs now expire on or before 31 December 2024. You do not need to tell us if your RRP expires on 31 December 2024 and your permission to stay in the UK has been granted for a longer period. UK/N will update their information on the M gov.uk website to tell you what you need to do in early 2024. You do not need to do anything now, and your immigration status will not be affected.

The expiry of the BRP card before the expiry of your permission does not change your entitlement to work, access services or benefits, or travel.
