Let's talk about money

Dear #{Contacts.First Name},

Last week, you should've received the first of our Countdown to UCL offer holder emails. These are intended to give you an insider view of life as a UCL student and to help you think ahead to starting out.

This week, we continue counting down to the beginning of your UCL journey with information about that all-important subject – Money!

Money

We understand that managing your money may sometimes seem difficult as a student, but it doesn't need to be! Our second theme, Money, will help you navigate your finances and ensure you're free from financial worries when you start your programme.

Show me the money! - How to make sure you get your funding on time

Find out the answers to some of the most frequently asked questions around the start of term regarding loans, scholarships, studentships and bursaries.

Financial support available to you - funding your studies

Here at UCL, there are a wide range of funding support options available to you. What's right for you depends on your individual circumstances. Find out more about the support available and how to access it.

Banking for international students

If you're able to come onto campus in September, one of the most important things to sort out is banking and finances. Katy from UCL's Student Funding team gives you her top tips.

Budgeting as a PhD student

You might already be a budgeting master, but if not, it's never too late to become one! Simone, our postgraduate research contributor, offers her advice to help you get going.

Explore the Checklists

Our simple checklists will help you make sure you get everything done. These cover essential, recommended and extra activities for before and after the start of term.
