

Re:Green Access Fund

Financial support for young people to volunteer in Scotland

Raleigh International is committed to ensuring our programmes are accessible to all young people from a range of backgrounds. We accept applications from all young people who might otherwise find it difficult to raise the full fundraising target, to volunteer with us for 2 or 4 weeks through the Re:Green Access Fund.

Freddy, 21

It's been an opportunity to grow as a person in ways that you wouldn't think possible. Without the Access Fund, I would not have been able to get involved.

Take action on our conservation projects

Work alongside our project partners in Scotland's rainforest and ancient woodlands helping to conserve and restore these vulnerable environments. Take part in nature conservation activities in remote locations which include supporting the removal of invasive species, restoration, rewilding green spaces, tree planting, habitat and wildlife monitoring, and trail maintenance.

Gain campaigning skills through our workshops

Equip yourself with skills to become a climate activist, and learn about sustainability, and environmental action in the UK. Our lesson plan includes, Climate Justice, Conservation, Behaviour Change, and Campaigning and Advocacy. Following your participation, you can mobilise yourself and others to take action by joining our climate campaign, Action Not Excuses.

Challenge yourself on the remote leadership trek

Take on some of Scotland's most challenging but beautiful terrains on an 11-day remote leadership trek. Venture off the beaten track and set up a new wild camp every night alongside your team of fellow volunteers. You will learn essential skills in leadership, teamwork, planning, problem-solving, and resilience.

Am I eligible for the Access Fund?

We want to give an opportunity to young people who are:

- Aged 17-24 years old
- In a household with an income below £30,000
- A UK national, currently residing in the UK, OR can prove 2 years of residence in the UK – and have a right to live, work or study in the UK
- Committed to spending 2 or 4 weeks in a challenging environment
- Passionate about taking action for the environment

The only payment required is a £50 deposit to confirm your involvement - we'll cover your other costs on Re:Green!
