

Raleigh Expeditions are back!

You can submit your application here.

Joining a Raleigh Expedition is a truly unique and varied experience allowing you to take part in up to three different projects – equip yourself with new skills, create lasting change with the communities you will work with and take urgent action on environmental issues.

Expedition provides an experiential and immersive learning environment where volunteers develop skills in teamwork, leadership, intercultural learning, and active citizenship; skills that can boost job prospects and inspire future volunteering in young people.

NEPAL – WHAT'S INVOLVED?

Community: Unite with local communities to improve access to water, sanitation and hygiene for some of the most vulnerable in Nepal. You will work with local volunteers improving facilities and sharing knowledge to ensure positive long-lasting change is made in these communities.

Adventure Leadership Trek: Challenge and equip yourself with new skills by trekking through the spectacular Ruby Valley. You and your team will take charge and make your own path climbing up to 2500m – a unique challenge to boost your leadership abilities, team working skills and resilience.
