STIM2STAND STUDY

Study into The Effects of Skin Surface Spinal Stimulation on Lower Limb Function after Spinal Cord Injury.

Information:

We are currently recruiting people with spinal cord injury for a study to look at the effects of skin surface spinal stimulation on lower limb function. You will participate in a sit-to-stand training programme.

For Further information please contact:

Dr Yazi Al’joboori y.al’joboori@ucl.ac.uk
Aspire CREATe, Royal National Orthopaedic Hospital, Brockley Hill, Stanmore, London.