

CRACKS AND REFORMS: THE CITY UNDER STRESS

Symposium on the City

UCL Department of English Language and Literature

10am - 6pm, Friday 15th December

Common Ground, Institute of Advanced Studies, UCL South Wing

10:00-11:00

Keynote

Iain Sinclair, 'The Sickness and the Shadow: Living with Dead Buildings'

11:15-12:45

Calum Cockburn, 'Mapping the Infernal City in the Junius 11 Manuscript'

Harvey Wiltshire, 'Coriolanus and the City in Circulation'

Dana Kovarik, 'Sin and the City in Thomas Dekker's The Seven Deadly Sinnes of London'

13:30-15:00

Alistair Robinson, 'On Being Forced to Walk in Nineteenth-Century London'

Linda Freedman, 'Blake, Ginsberg and the Ethics of Form'

Alex Grafen, 'Commercial Street/Charing Cross Road: Two London Little Magazines'

15:15-16:45

Alex Pavey, 'Disorientation, Incrimination and the Mobile Metropolis'

David Anderson, 'The Surfaces of the City: Patrick Keiller's London'

Julia Jordan, 'Boxing Trees, or, Arborealism'

17:00-18:00

Drinks Reception and Poetry Reading by Jay Bernard and Mark Ford

All Welcome