

UCL Summer School Online 2021

History

Monday, 26 July – Friday, 30 July 2021

‘Making History’ will draw on the incredible online historical resources available from institutions close to UCL’s central London campus. We’ll introduce you to some new kinds of historical sources, and new ways of thinking about the work that historians do in reconstructing the past. You’ll hear great lectures from experts on a variety of historical topics and work closely with some of our finest historians to put together a group presentation.

It is possible that we will make offers of undergraduate places on the basis of work conducted over the course of the week.

Required A level/ Advanced Higher subjects: History required.

For further information and other qualifications, please visit our website:

<https://www.ucl.ac.uk/prospective-students/undergraduate/degrees>