Welcome

Hello and welcome to the Mature Student’s guide. We hope it will provide you with a full and complete snapshot of all that UCL has to offer mature students. As your Mature and Part-time Students’ Officer, I have first-hand experience of what it’s like to study here and all that UCL can offer, both personally and academically. Indeed, being from London and being able to commute to and from UCL was a huge part of my decision to complete my Undergraduate in Law, alongside it being one of the top universities in the U.K. This year, I am thrilled to have been elected into my post to continue to ensure that mature students are fully represented within university decision-making. UCL has a reputation of diversity and acceptance – it was the first university to accept women on equal terms with men – and I believe this is no exception with regards to its attitude towards mature students. I hope this booklet gives you a helpful understanding on what life as a mature student at UCL is like. I look forward to being your friend and ally should you decide UCL is right for you.

Yours faithfully,

Helen
Part-time and Mature Students’ Officer 2020–2021
Student Union UCL
Did you know?

At UCL we define mature students as those who are 21 years or older on the day they start their first undergraduate degree. Mature students make up just over 5% of our student population and are an expanding and diverse group.

We welcome students from all backgrounds to join our vibrant learning community. UCL is a multi-disciplinary university, home to centres of teaching excellence in a wide range of subjects. We encourage interdisciplinary study and believe that all areas of study can inform and enrich each other.

Our central London location gives our students access not only to the best in entertainment and nightlife, but also to cultural and academic resources. We are close to, and have teaching and research links with, countless hospitals, museums, galleries, libraries and professional bodies. Being located in the heart of London is also beneficial for graduate job opportunities, internships and work experience.

For more information about UCL, and full details about entry requirements please visit our website.
“I wasn’t a great student when I was younger but always wanted to go back to school. I did an Access to Higher Education course at Filton College whilst working full time in a restaurant. There are different options for the course, but I chose Physics, Biology and Chemistry to give me a well balanced scientific knowledge when going forward!”

Tim, MSci Environmental Science, UCL

Entry into UCL

We understand that good applicants might have breaks in their education for various reasons, and we want mature students to excel at UCL.

If you don’t meet the advertised required entry requirements, or haven’t studied within the last three years, we recommend that you contact the relevant admissions tutor to discuss your particular circumstances before applying. It may be that your recent work experience can be taken into consideration, or they might suggest enrolling onto an Access to Higher Education course before applying.

The following pages list all of UCL’s undergraduate programmes. You can click on each to find out full entry requirements, including Access to Higher Education Diploma, for every programme. Alternatively, for more information please visit our website.

University life

Located in the heart of London, UCL provides students with a rich academic and social experience, and this is no different for our mature students.

At UCL our mature students are represented by the Student Union’s Mature and Part-time Students’ Officer, whose role is to provide support to mature students and to ensure that the concerns and suggestions of the mature student community are heard. You can contact them via email at su-mpts.officer@ucl.ac.uk. Additionally, there are many opportunities to get involved with the Students’ Union (SU) at UCL (see page 30 for more information). There are also lots of opportunities to shape your time at UCL and leave your mark on our community.

Paying for university

Tuition Fee Loan
The majority of undergraduate students pay for university using loans and grants from Student Finance. The tuition fee loan covers the full cost of tuition at your chosen university and is paid directly from the Student Loans Company to your university when you start your course, so you don’t need to worry about remembering to pay them - it all happens automatically!

Maintenance Loan
The maintenance loan is offered to assist with your living costs while you are a student. It is means tested and the amount you are given each year can vary, depending if there’s a change in your household income or circumstances. This loan is paid directly to you so you can budget and manage your costs as needed.

Other Student Finance grants and funding
Depending on your circumstances you may also be eligible for grants from Student Finance to help with the cost of study. These include Parental Learning Allowance, Childcare Grant and Adult Dependants’ Grant for students with children or adults who are financially dependent on them. Disabled Students Allowances are also available to students with disabilities who incur additional costs in order to study.

Paying your loans back

You do not repay Student Finance loans until the April after you have finished your course and when you are earning over the ‘repayment threshold’ (currently £26,575). What you repay will increase and decrease in line with your income. If you stop working or your earnings go below the repayment threshold, your repayments will automatically stop. All loans are written off 30 years after the April you were first due to repay.

Find out more about student finance
You can apply and find out more about the tuition fee and maintenance loans, as well as paying back your loans at Student Finance England’s website.

Scholarships/bursaries:

Whilst studying you may be able to apply for scholarships and bursaries to contribute towards the costs of university.

The UCL Undergraduate Bursary provides up to £2,500 each year to undergraduate students from the UK who have had their income assessed by Student Finance as less than £42,875 per year. Find out more about the UCL Undergraduate Bursary.

There are also bursaries of £1,000 available for students who are Care Leavers or who are estranged from parents. Find out more about the support available for Care Leavers and Estranged students.

UCL also offers a range of scholarships based on both academic merit and financial need, some tied to particular departments and some open to all. Find out more about the scholarships available at UCL.
Accommodation

UCL provides around 6000 beds in 26 student accommodation halls. Our halls vary in size, facilities and history. The UCL Accommodation team can offer information and advice, and aim to provide a place where you will feel comfortable and supported. To find out more about what accommodation we offer, please do visit our accommodation webpage.

Many of our students commute, choosing to stay living in their familial or own homes whilst studying at UCL. We have a growing and vibrant commuter student population, and you can find out more about public transport options by visiting our transport webpage.

Student life and wellbeing

General Wellbeing

At UCL we recognise that mature students may be combining their learning with other commitments such as caring for a family or working. UCL has a large support network that students can access, as well as information and guidance to help students navigate their studies. Once students have enrolled onto their programme they will be assigned a personal tutor or supervisor who can provide pastoral as well as academic support. For more information, please visit our student support and wellbeing webpage.

Counselling

UCL has extensive support for students’ emotional and mental wellbeing. Our Student Psychological and Counselling Service offers one to one therapeutic support to students. Students can also access self-help resources and information relating to other organisations via their website. UCL also works in partnership with Care First who provide wrap around counselling support on the phone and online for students, including those who may be studying abroad.

Disability

UCL welcomes students who identify as disabled. We have a team of disability advisers on hand to discuss any access requirements that a student may have and work with departments to ensure that students are able to have an inclusive and fulfilling learning experience. We encourage students who are eligible to apply for Disabled Students Allowances and to speak to us in advance of enrolling onto their programme at UCL.
The Students’ Union UCL runs over 300 clubs and societies giving students the opportunity to participate in sports activities, attend events or volunteer through the Volunteering Service. To find out more about all that the Students’ Union has to offer, visit their website.

Student Parents

UCL understands that mature students may have caring responsibilities that they need to manage along with their studies. UCL is a family friendly institution, with regular family activity days, a day nursery, family accommodation and the Parents and Carers Together Network. UCL Students’ Union has an Officer representing Students with Caring Responsibilities and the SUUCL also has lots of information about spaces that are family friendly. UCL has study space that is open for extended hours, allowing students to study at a time that suits their needs and commitments, including in our newest building The Student Centre.

Student Ambassadors

You can also apply to work as a Student Ambassador – this is a great way of showcasing your experience of being a UCL student to prospective students and is also a great way of boosting your CV whilst studying through well-paid flexible employment. Our Student Ambassadors make presentations and give tours of UCL, all aimed at encouraging school students from primary through to Year 13 and beyond to explore new ideas and realise their goals. You can find out more about Student Ambassadors on our webpage.

Student Representation

Our Student Academic Representatives are appointed or elected in programmes, departments and faculties across UCL as the voice of their fellow students. They have the power to influence decisions at UCL. Similarly, our Student Experience Panel provides direct feedback on the students experience to management at UCL. To find more about these opportunities, take a look at our website.
FAQs

When are the key deadlines for applying for university?

All undergraduate applications for university go through UCAS. Therefore, UCAS sets national deadlines, as opposed to each university having their own deadline. For all but two universities in England, the deadline for you to apply to university is 15 January. However, if you are applying to Oxford or Cambridge, the deadline is the middle of October, often the 15 October. Additionally, if you are applying to study medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine/science courses you will also need to have completed your application by the October deadline.

What’s the best way to make friends with my peers?

A good way to make friends is to be as involved with student life as possible. As a mature student, we understand that you may have additional responsibilities outside of university. However, generally a good way of getting to know your peers is to attend university events, particularly welcome events, and visit your Students’ Union within your first term.

Will I be the oldest student on my course?

This is a common question asked by mature students. It is very difficult to predict and would vary course to course, and university to university. However at UCL, most of our students are between 18–21 when they join us, and the majority of our mature students are within the 21–25 age bracket. If this is something that really does concern you, or may be a key factor in deciding where you study, it is worth researching the demographics of the student population at your university, or asking for more information on an open day or contacting a university admissions team.

My faith doesn’t allow me to take loans with interest, is there anything else that Student Finance England can offer me?

Unfortunately not, currently Student Finance England only offers loans with interest. It is worth researching charities and bursaries or scholarships that may cover the tuition fee.

When do I have to have sorted my accommodation or living situation by?

Once you have accepted your place at your chosen university, your university will be in touch with you about your accommodation options. This usually happens around June. The sooner that you complete your accommodation application, the more likely you are to get to the accommodation you want. However, your university may be able to change your accommodation if you’re unhappy, and do remember to ensure you clearly state if you have any accessibility needs when selecting accommodation.

How will I be assessed?

Each course and each university differs. It is worth reading the prospectus carefully and ensuring you ask those questions on open days, or by contacting the admissions department directly.
Top tips

✅ Before you attend open days, prepare a list of crucial questions that you want to know the answer to whilst looking around.

✅ Before you start university, do think about joining social media groups, at UCL, for example, we have a ‘UCL Mature and Part-time Students 2020-21’ Facebook group and page which connects mature students before starting their studies.

✅ If you’re concerned about your wellbeing whilst at university, and support services available to you, we recommend you look at the university’s wellbeing strategies – this will give you an idea of what they offer currently and what they may offer in the future. UCL has a Student Wellbeing Strategy that outlines our commitments, which can be found on our Student Support and Wellbeing website.

✅ If you’re a parent or care-giver, it’s worth finding out about child care facilities at universities you are interested in applying to. To find out about UCL’s facilities visit our webpage.

✅ Find out about student bank accounts and consider which one is best suited to you for the entirety of your degree. For example some may offer perks upfront, such as an iPad, but in the long term offer a smaller overdrafts or less time to pay your overdraft back.

Next steps

If you are interested in applying for university and think UCL could be the right place for you, do consider your next steps.

- Download our prospectus to learn more about our courses and entry requirements.
- Come to an open day to visit the university campus and discover more about student life.
- Visit the UCAS website for general university application information.
